

Boy Is Freed

SOLONS OPPOSED TO
F. D. R. NAVY PLANS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—(UP)—Influential members of the house and senate indicated today that they preferred to strengthen America's air force instead of building new ships as proposed by President Roosevelt. Beyond mentioning their preference, however, they were unwilling to oppose the President's views.

Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, D., Mont., was one of those urging improvement of the air branches of national defense. He urged that it be ridiculous to spend money on battleships which become obsolete within a few years or to attempt to keep pace with England's naval armament program, designed for the protection of far flung colonies.

Among house appropriations committee members urging greater emphasis on air strength were Chairman Edward T. Taylor, D., Colo., of the house appropriations committee, Rep. Clarence Cannon, D., Mo., and Rep. J. G. Scruggs, D., Nev.

RETENTION OF SHIP
SERVICE DEMANDED

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 30.—(UP)—Military defense of the Pacific Coast demands adequate and speedy operation of liner service between western ports, Congressman Richard J. Welch said today as a state-wide committee met to demand retention of intercoastal steamship schedules, now threatened with virtual abandonment.

"This coast," Welch said, "can not be safe from enemy attack unless, in peace time, enough fast ships are operating from Pacific ports to act as protection in the event of troop movement."

The committee discussed potential dangers of a situation wherein transportation of troops on the Pacific would be tied up because of unavailability of liners which could be converted into army and navy transports.

GARBO RUMORS ARE DENIED BY STUDIO

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 30.—(UP)—Reports from Sweden that Greta Garbo might not return to Hollywood were scoffed at here today. The blond star is visiting her home.

At her studio it was reported that Miss Garbo will stay in Sweden no longer than her usual six to eight months and will return as soon as Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer informs her that the scripts are ready for the first of two pictures that she will make.

In Sweden, Miss Garbo was quoted as saying that she hoped to make hilarious comedies, instead of her usual serious movies. Her producers were reported to disagree with her plans.

Ames Ouster Plea Rejected

ALLEN SAYS "NO REASON FOR CHANGE"

Presiding Judge James I. Allen of the superior court, today rejected the request of the county supervisors for removal of Judge Homer G. Ames as judge of juvenile court.

In a short statement addressed to the requesters, Judge Allen said he "saw no reason why any change should be made."

No Juvenile Home Judge

The supervisors' motion requesting Judge Ames' removal, referred to the "Judge of the Juvenile Home," though the board evidently meant the juvenile court, as there is no such office as judge of the juvenile home. The juvenile home is administered by the seven members of the county probation committee, appointed by the judge of the juvenile court, who does not.

LAGUNAN WINS $50,000 SUIT

LAGUNA BEACH, Dec. 30.—Mrs. Victoria de Olazabal, of 843 Cliff Drive, Laguna Beach, yesterday was victor in a lawsuit involving $50,000, heard in Division No. 1 of the State Court of Appeals. The suit, brought by Mrs. de Olazabal, the former wife of Tom Mix, cowboy movie picture star, was originally filed in superior court in Los Angeles.

Five promissory notes, each for $5000, were executed by Mix in 1928, when the couple were man and wife, and were intended for the benefit of Thomasina Mix, a minor child. After the notes were made, divorce proceedings were instituted by the then Mrs. Mix, and the notes were allegedly defaulted, resulting in the lawsuit carried to appeal following a superior court decision adverse to the plaintiff's claims.

Decision Reversed

In Monday's appellate court decision, made known yesterday, the higher court ruled that error by the trial court necessitated reversal of the decision, which, favoring Tom Mix, is now set aside. Since the suit was instituted, both parties have remarried. Mrs. de Olazabal making her home in Laguna Beach, where the de Olazabal sea-front house is a well-known landmark.

Mrs. de Olazabal was formerly a star in silent pictures, being originally Victoria Ford, who, with Eddie Lyons and Lee Moran, made dozens of thrilling western "horse operas," affording the feminine star of the trio opportunity for much daredevil horsemanship.

ACTOR SEEKS PROOF HE'S 'GOOD FELLOW'

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 30.—(UP)—Frank Fay sought out his friends today to ask if they would go to court and say what a good fellow he was. He has until Jan. 10 to rebut the testimony of his former wife, Barbara Stanwyck, who told the judge yesterday that Fay was not fit to see their adopted son.

Once, the red-haired actress said, Fay knocked her down with a blow to the chin in the presence of the baby. He did it because she went to a burlesque show. The baby also was upset by it, she said.

Another time, when the baby was 3, Fay got drunk, stumbled into the nursery and dropped a cigarette that set fire to the rug and enveloped the baby's crib in smoke, she said. She did not say if the baby was in the crib then.

Tobacco Road Too Rough for Fresno

FRESNO, Cal., Dec. 30.—(UP)—Fresno Memorial Auditorium was denied today to a road show production of Tobacco Road, New York stage hit, because city commissioners did not like the drama's "reputation" and considered it "more or less of a roughhouse" and not educational.

Members of the commission admitted they had never read the play but pointed out that theater managers and sponsors in Fresno refused to endorse it.

See Jackson As New Deal 1940 "Hope"

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—(UP)—Sen. Charles L. McNary, R., Ore., leader of the Republican party in the senate today characterized the attack of Assistant Attorney General Robert H. Jackson upon big business as an "obvious effort to create an alibi" for the business recession.

McNary said he believed that Jackson's two addresses in which the anti-trust chief contended that monopolistic practices of big business were the major cause of the depression were designed to "prepare the way" for President Roosevelt's message to congress Monday.

NOTED CHINESE ASSASSINATED

SHANGHAI, Dec. 30.—(UP)—Loh Pah-Hong, Chinese Catholic leader and one of the country's richest men, was assassinated today as he waited for his limousine outside his palatial home in the French concession.

Loh was regarded by many Chinese as pro-Japanese, and it was to this belief that his death was attributed.

Loh was general manager of the Chinese Electric Power Company, among many interests, Chu Chung-Yen, secretary of the company, was with him this morning as he waited for his car.

Assassins Escape

Two Chinese orange peddlers, who were without warning began firing pistols at him. Three bullets took effect and Loh died on the way to hospital. The assassins escaped.

Loh was a member of a civilian committee formed to facilitate a return to "normal" conditions in Shanghai and he had been mentioned as a possible new mayor, presumably acceptable to Japanese.

Well known for his philanthropy, Loh had been decorated not only by the Pope but by the French and Belgian governments. In 1927 he visited the United States as Chinese delegate to the International Catholic Conference at Chicago.

LAUNCH NEWSPRINT INDUSTRY INQUIRY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—(UP)—Justice department officials said today that Attorney General Homer C. Cummings was considering asking the federal trade commission to investigate complaints of monopoly and price fixing in the newspaper industry.

The officials said that numerous complaints had been received from newspaper publishers especially over the $7.50 per ton increase in the newspaper price effective after Jan. 1.

Cummings and Assistant Attorney General Robert H. Jackson, head of the department's anti-trust division, were understood to feel that the FTC was better equipped to conduct such an investigation.

W.P.A. Relief Roll Increased 30,626

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—(UP)—Works Progress Administration relief rolls increased 30,626 during the week ending Dec. 18, according to statistics released today.

This was the largest increase of any week this calendar year and brought the total number of persons on WPA projects to 4,588,315. Eleven states reported increases of more than 1,000 during the week. Five reported decreases.

F. B. I. AGENT TAKES OVER AAFJE CASE

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Dec. 30.—(UP)—W. H. Osborn, Federal Bureau of Investigation agent, today boarded the Yacht Aafje, off San Clemente Island, to investigate the slaying of Dwight Faulding, Santa Barbara hotelman and owner of the craft.

Osborne left the coast guard base here at 7 a. m., aboard a speedy patrol boat and was to contact the Aafje, in tow of the Coast Guard Cutter Perseus, 10 miles off.

PANAY MOVIES "PREVIEWED"

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—(UP)—The findings of the U. S. Naval Board of Inquiry which investigated the bombing of the gunboat Panay were borne out today by films taken during the raid by Norman Alley, Universal Newsreel cameraman.

A preview of the film showed that the American flag on the Panay should have been visible to the Japanese planes that bombed it. In one part of the film the diving planes and the American flag at the sternpost are shown in the same picture.

Alley did not film the alleged machine-gunning of the Panay before it was boarded by Japanese. He explained he had to hide his camera. However, he photographed numerous machine gun bullet holes in the side of the ship.

The film shows American sailors trotting to their posts and training machine guns on the planes, the abandoning of the Panay, the death of Sandro Sandri, Italian newspaperman, the trudging survivors, and scenes of the bombing of Nanking.

The film arrived here last night. Prints were prepared today for nation-wide distribution.

Canadian Silver Pact Is Extended

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—(UP)—Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., announced today that the understanding with Canada to purchase part of the Dominion's silver production had been extended through the month of January.

A similar understanding was reached with Mexico earlier this week.

Morgenthau said that this government pays the identical prices for Canadian and Mexican silver. The price is between 44 and 45 cents as compared to 77.57 cents an ounce paid by the treasury for newly mined domestic silver.

SOLON IMPROVED

LAFAYETTE, Ala., Dec. 30.—(UP)—Condition of Former U. S. Senator J. Thomas Heflin, ill with today pneumonia, was described today as "definitely improved" by his physician, Dr. N. A. Wheeler.

Dr. Wheeler said the former Alabama senator, stricken at the climax of a campaign to regain a seat in the Senate, spent a comfortable night. The physician said he had removed Heflin from an oxygen tent.

"NEW EDUCATION"

Today's quotation from Ruggs as the American standard of living permits.

Volume 5, page 621—"Even today there is enough wealth in America to provide a fairly comfortable standard of living for all—Hence we must learn to study scientifically this problem of guaranteeing even the lowest among us a good standard of living."

The interpretation as to what this philosophy would mean to the people of the United States will be found under Sharing the Comforts column in today's issue.

Attacks On Big Business Called Alibi

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—(UP)—Monopolistic business is under New Deal fire today preliminary to a 1938 drive for greater government restraint on large concentrations of industrial-financial power.

Political and economic sparks are flying as Assistant Attorney General Robert H. Jackson expands President Roosevelt's last fireside chat denunciation of "private monopolies and financial oligarchies."

Seen As Strategy

This strategy may rally some deserting New Deal troops to Mr. Roosevelt's standard and, more debatable, make Jackson a political figure of Presidential proportions by 1940. Many liberals or progressives scattered with conservatives when administration ranks were broken during this year's judiciary reorganization conflict. Notable deserter was Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney, D., Wyo., whose bill to curb monopoly by requiring federal license of interstate commerce.

'NOISE' ALLEGED IN $12,000 SUIT

Corinne W. Gerard, of Laguna Terrace, Laguna Beach, today sought relief in superior court from the "roaring and rumbling sounds and uproar" which she claims have made her home "devoid of quiet, peace and rest."

If the court will abate the alleged nuisance created by a sawmill next door to her duplex apartment on Laguna Terrace, she will get the peace and quiet she wants, her complaint to the court indicated. Her tenants will also find peace and quiet, presumably, and she will be able to keep her property rented.

Claims $10,000 Damage

Her suit, brought against F. M. Pitt, doing business as the Public Mill and Lumber company, also asks $12,155 damages for the disturbance of peace and quiet which she charges against the adjacent sawmill. She claims $10,000 general damage, $1000 punitive damage, and $1155 representing losses of rental.

She has been forced to reduce the rental of both apartments from $25 per month to $15 each, she alleges, claiming that tenants will not stay and that the property value has been depreciated.

GOVERNMENT EDICT ENDS PARIS STRIKE

PARIS, Dec. 30.—(UP)—A strike of municipal workers, which stopped subway and bus service and threatened water, gas and electricity supplies ended today as suddenly as it began.

Confronted with a threat by the popular front government to break the strike with the aid of army engineers, the strikers decided to return to work.

At 4:30 a. m., after a conference with strike leaders, Minister of Interior Marx Dormoy announced that work should be resumed today. Truck drivers remained on strike as they had been since last week.

JURIST UNINJURED IN FOUR-CAR CRASH

FRESNO, Cal., Dec. 30.—(UP)—Municipal Judge Thomas M. Foley, of San Francisco, narrowly escaped injury in a four-car crash on the fog-blanketed Golden State Highway which injured four persons, the California highway patrol reported today.

The injured were Charles Welch, 42, of San Francisco; his wife, Mrs. Mildred Welch, 40; Charles Belluomini, 41, of San Francisco, and his wife, Mrs. Iva Belluomini, 32. All were confined at the Fresno general hospital. Foley was a passenger in the machine of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Kohn, also of San Francisco, who escaped injury. J. D. Swift, of San Francisco, and W. W. Hedges, 58, of Fresno, drivers of the other two cars suffered minor injuries.

PARISIANS DIE IN CRASH

PARIS, Dec. 30.—(UP)—Pierre Michelin, son of the automobile tire manufacturer; Louis La Gorgette, secretary to minister of state; Paul Faure, and La Gorgette's wife and son were killed today in a motor collision near Montargis.

No danger, folks. Philip Holzworth, 13 months, has a green light and is just making a turn. The Chicago youngster learned to walk several weeks ago with the aid of roller skates, and gets around better with them than without.

G. O. P. FACES "TOUGH FIGHT" IN COMING STATE ELECTION

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 30.—(UP)—California, one of the nation's few remaining strongholds of Republicanism in state administration, prepared today to greet a New Year carrying potentially the greatest challenge to G.O.P. dominance in four generations.

Not since Gov. James H. Budd, the "Buckboard Campaigner," turned over his post to Henry T. Gage, on Jan. 4, 1899, has California had a Democratic state administration. Only four of 20 chief executives since the days of Leland Stanford, the first Republican governor of the Golden Bear state, have been Democrats. A fifth was a member of the now non-existent Union party.

Fullerton Has Rock Pile For Drunkards

Fullerton has two brand new hammers and two tons of rock ready and waiting habitual violators of the city's intoxication ordinance. First offenders who appear before Judge Halsey I. Spence will not get rock pile terms, but second offenders will, according to word from Fullerton today.

The rock pile, located just north of the Fullerton city jail in full view of passersby, was established after a conference between Judge Spence and Chief of Police James M. Pearson, who decided that the rock pile might prove more effective than jail terms for certain offenders.

Police are hoping that it won't be necessary to make use of the rock pile but on the other hand, they point out that for some offenders jail sentences are just vacations.

Thus the new year 1938 brings to Gov. Frank P. Merriam a formidable hurdle, assuming that Rooseveltian popularity does not wane in the 10 months preceding next November's general election.

Already in the field as potential opponents of the governor are three Democrats, State Senator Culbert L. Olson, Herbert C. Legg, Los Angeles county supervisor, and Congressman John F. Dockweiler of Los Angeles. Federal Controller of Currency J. E. T. O'Connor and Sheriff Dan Murphy of San Francisco may go to the post for the August Democratic primary.

STATE STARTS QUIZ INTO BRITE SLAYING

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Dec. 30.—(UP)—Two state investigators have been assigned to check up on all angles of the Siskiyou county triple slaying for which John and Coke Brites are awaiting execution Jan. 21. Clarence S. Morrill, chief of the state bureau of investigation, said today.

The action was taken at the request of the state advisory pardon board, which is considering an application for commutation of sentence for the mountaineer brothers who were convicted of slaying two peace officers and a civilian while resisting arrest. A report from the investigators on circumstances surrounding the fatal fight was expected early in January.

Cars Damaged In Ford Labor Fight

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 30.—(UP)—Police said today that the fourth incident in two days involving damage to automobiles was connected with the strike of the United Automobile Workers at the Ford assembly plant here.

Three owners of Ford automobiles reported to police yesterday that acid had been thrown on their cars. Today J. O. Butler told officers that his Ford had been overturned and acid sprinkled over it.

VAST FOREIGN HOLDINGS ARE THREATENED

SHANGHAI, Dec. 30.—(UP)—Japanese opened a terrific aerial attack on Canton today while Chinese continued sabotage in Tsingtao and assassins' bullets killed Loh Pah-Hong, wealthy pro-Japanese merchant of Shanghai.

The air raid on Canton was the most severe in many months and apparently was aimed at the Chinese arsenal, possibly foreshadowing the long-anticipated offensive against the southern seaport, with its adjacent vast foreign interests. Foreigners expressed grave perturbation over developments.

Eight Japanese war planes participated in the raid. For 45 minutes they dropped tons of explosives on the suburban districts of the city. It was the most severe air assault since September 8, but Chinese sources claimed that the damage was slight.

Approximately 20 explosions, starting at 9:50 o'clock last night, roused residents. There were four more, of great intensity, at 4:30 a. m. today, centering at the new electrical sub-station which—paradoxically—is seven times more powerful than the main station.

It was expected that at any hour electric service would be stopped. Chester Bardens, United Press correspondent at Tsingtao, toured the factory and harbor districts to find streets deserted but for a few policemen.

Leading Chinese citizens, foreseeing the city's ruin, appealed to

SPAIN TORN BY TERRIFIC FIGHT

HENDAYE, French-Spanish Frontier, Dec. 30.—(UP)—Spanish Nationalists and Loyalists clashed on a 25-mile front outside Teruel today in what may prove to be the biggest battle of the civil war.

Nationalists asserted that in the opening phase of the battle they broke through Loyalist lines north-west of Teruel for a gain of 1 1/4 miles. They said also that the Loyalist left wing was threatened with disaster by a Nationalist turning movement.

Attack Halted

Loyalists, admitting that the Nationalists had started a big scale attack, asserted that two thrusts at their lines were thrown back with heavy losses.

Manuel Carares United Press correspondent, telegraphed from Zaragoza, the great Nationalist base in the north-east, that in the battle both sides were using every kind of weapon they possessed.

Hundreds of tanks, massed artillery, big plane fleets and enormous quantities of machine guns and late-type automatic rifles were involved, Casares reported.

The Nationalists were trying both to cut through direct to Teruel, to relieve their men holding out in two groups of buildings, and to smash the Loyalist wings.

U. S. TO SHIP FROGS TO PACIFIC ISLAND

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 30.—(UP)—Guam, United States' fortified island in mid-Pacific, is going to get its first batch of frogs.

Big Croakers from the Louisiana swamps, weighing up to four pounds apiece, will be aboard the transport U. S. S. Chaumont when it departs for Guam and the Orient Jan. 5, carrying Commander James T. Alexander, newly-appointed governor of the island.

S. A. Stores Close Early Tomorrow

Santa Ana stores will not remain open tomorrow night, according to an announcement today by Phil Brown, secretary-manager of the Business Men's association.

Brown said that many residents of the city had expressed the belief that, because Saturday is a holiday and all stores will be closed that the regular Saturday night closing hours would be observed.

"Downtown merchants," Brown said, "have signified their intention of observing the regular weekday closing hour of 5:30 p. m. tomorrow and will remain closed all day Saturday."

DEATH ON YACHT INVESTIGATED

miles southeast of San Clemente Island, en route to San Pedro.

Skipper Slain
The yacht skipper, Dwight Faulding, hotel owner and sportsman, had been shot to death. The yacht had drifted helplessly on the open sea for days. Her living—two men, three women, and a child—probably had been without food and water for a long period.

Also aboard the yacht were armed sailors of the coast guard cutter Perseus, which had her in tow and will bring her into San Pedro early Friday.

That, in its essence, was all that was known of the state of affairs aboard the Aafie. No further details came ashore through the Perseus' radio, which had sent this message:

"There's trouble aboard."

G-Men to Investigate
Federal Bureau of Investigation men waited for the arrival of the cutter and her tow. A crime on the high seas on a ship flying the American flag is a federal offense, and the agents presumed that a crime had been committed.

The dead man owned the Faulding hotel at Santa Barbara. The first men from the Perseus to board the Aafie found his body, punctured by several bullets, on the foredeck.

All indications were that he had not shot himself. There was no indication when he had been shot. He may have been dead for days.

The living aboard were:

Mrs. Gertrude Turner and her son, Robert Tuor, 8, of Goleta, Calif.

Mrs. Jack Morgan, wife of a former naval officer, Los Angeles.

Miss Elsie Berdan, Los Angeles.

George Sternack, Los Angeles.

Robert Horn, Los Angeles.

Morgan Missing

Morgan was believed to have chartered the yacht from owner Faulding and to have engaged him as skipper. But the passengers' names witnessed by the Perseus did not include Morgan's.

The Aafie, a schooner yacht with a motor auxiliary, not equipped with radio, was chartered for a two-day trip around Catalina Island. Provisioned for two days, she sailed from this port Dec. 20 and that was the last heard of her until Monday when a naval flier sighted a yacht wallowing helplessly in the long troughs of the sea.

He thought her appearance strange, dove his plane, circled her. An auxiliary sail was up. On its canvas, sprawling in huge, wavering letters was "S. O. S." He saw what appeared to be a body on deck, the broken stump of a mast, debris indicating that the ship had been through a storm.

This was 180 miles south of San Pedro, miles off her course to or from Catalina Island.

The naval plane was a land plane and the flier could only wireless naval headquarters, which notified coast guard headquarters. The Perseus was sent at once to the position.

SENATE GROUP TO HEAR G. M. C. HEAD

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—(UP)—President William S. Knudsen of General Motors today advised the special senate committee investigating unemployment and relief that he will testify before it Jan. 6, as requested by Chairman James F. Byrnes, D., S. C.

Knudsen delayed a field trip to hasten his appearance before the committee to describe employment conditions in the automobile industry.

Byrnes urged Knudsen, who previously had said he would be unable to appear before Jan. 28, to advance the date in order to give the committee his views on the "reported increasing unemployment in the automobile industry." General Motors earlier this week announced that 20,000 men will be laid off and that the remaining 205,000 men will be cut to a three day, 24 hour work week.

MRS. F. D. R. RETURNS FROM LONG FLIGHT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—(UP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt arrived here by plane at 4:16 a. m. today after a Christmas visit to her daughter in Seattle, Wash.

Mrs. Roosevelt left Newark, N. J., at 2:27 a. m. where she completed a transcontinental flight from the Pacific coast. She went immediately to the White House. Mrs. Roosevelt did not appear particularly weary from her long trip which she completed within a week.

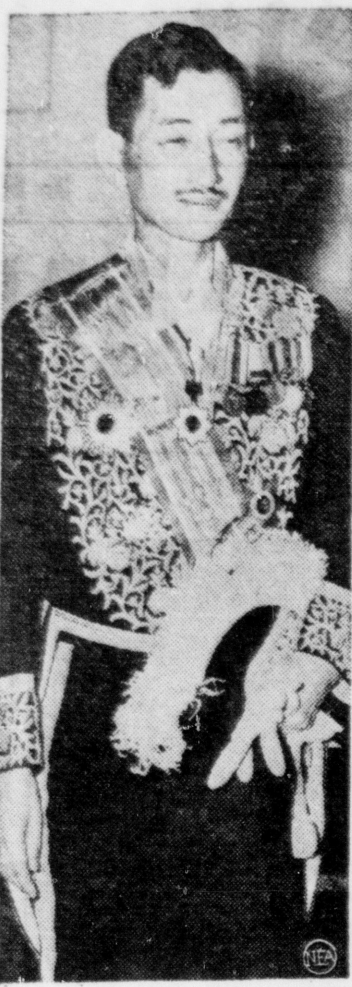

She left the White House unexpectedly last Wednesday night. Flying through snow storms she arrived in Seattle Friday where she spent four days with her daughter, Mrs. John Boettner, who has been ill for several weeks.

ALL QUIET IN IRELAND

DUBLIN, Dec. 30.—(UP)—Constitution day passed without disorder, a check indicated today, though some 5000 persons attended three republican meetings last night at which speakers denounced the new constitution.

MEXICO CITY ROCKED

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 30.—(UP)—The capital was rocked by a slight earthquake at 5:45 a. m. today, renewing the uneasiness of the inhabitants after a week of powerful tremors.

A resplendent figure in gold braid, Hirono Saito, Japanese ambassador, appears at the diplomatic reception held by President and Mrs. Roosevelt.

Japan and China Wage Sartorial War

Tension like that during the world war was noted by veterans of such affairs at the White House diplomatic reception, which brought the Japanese and Chinese ambassadors together socially for the first time since hostilities began in the Orient. They were spared meeting through co-operation of other guests. Although last on the list of envoys, Chinese Ambassador Chengting Wang and his three beautiful daughters made an outstanding group. Left to right the girls are Yoeh, An-Fu and An-Hsiu.

JACKSON SEEN AS 1940 "HOPE"

corporations now is reported to have Mr. Roosevelt's favor. The 1938 anti-monopoly platform is one on which might be reformed some of the progressive leadership which bolted the President in 1937.

On Dec. 26 Jackson let go a radio charge that big business precipitated recession by price increases beyond the power of consumers to purchase. He attacked again yesterday in Philadelphia with the complaint that big money in the United States is on strike to "whack concessions out of government."

Leads Battle
Jackson's two addresses and his job as senior assistant attorney general in charge of anti-trust cases put him in command of the politico-economic front which promises to be most active in the next year or so. Washington is bubbling now with rumors that Mr. Roosevelt wants Jackson to run for governor of New York next year and possibly for President in 1940 on the New Deal-Democratic ticket.

Astute politicians long associated with Mr. Roosevelt are inclined to believe Jackson is the 1940 White House favorite. Therefore, Washington is re-appraising the James-town, N. Y., lawyer, age 45, Democrat, Episcopalian and Mason who arrived in 1934 to become general counsel for the bureau of internal revenue. He was moved to the justice department last year.

Mr. McNary contended that business is "entitled to some control but not all of it." The minority leader said that fear had resulted from apprehension as to the future policy and legislation of the administration and the disappointment at the effect of laws that already have been enacted by the New Deal.

McNary contended that business needs a "breathing spell" from government control and the possibility of future policies which might expand that control.

"They should just let up and say that 'we are through now,'" McNary said.

himself, have any other connection with affairs of the home, except to approve appointments.

It was the administration of the home that the supervisors criticized in their motion urging removal of Judge Ames, the supervisors apparently thinking that Judge Ames administered affairs of the home.

Although the board addressed the outer request to Presiding Judge Ames, removal of Judge Ames would have required action by two judges of the court, it was stated.

Allen's Reply
Judge Allen's reply to the supervisors was as follows:

"Gentlemen: Mr. E. J. Smith, clerk of the board of supervisors, has just handed me a certified copy of the motion passed at the meeting of your board on December 28, 1937. In reply thereto, will state that I was appointed presiding judge on December 15, 1937, and the assignments for the work of the court for the ensuing year were made on December 20, 1937. I see no reason why any change should be made."

The ouster attempt was an indictment of the feud between the supervisors and authorities of the juvenile home and court, that developed from disagreement over appointment of a county juvenile coordinator.

Boy Scouts Will Return Tomorrow

Orange county Boy Scouts attending the annual winter camp at Camp Rokila will return to Santa Ana at 6:30 p. m. tomorrow, according to word received from the mountain retreat today.

While there was no snow in the hills during the camp period the 50 Scouts had plenty of ice skating on Dollar Lake and tobogganing on an artificial slide constructed at the camp and flooded from the private reservoir at Rokila.

Under present plans, the party will leave the mountain resort early tomorrow afternoon by bus to arrive at Scout headquarters in the Spurgeon building.

GREAT BEND, Kans.—Another high school hero, Bill Savoy, Great Bend's football star, is going to the Pasadena Rose Bowl game—at somebody's expense.

Savoy made such a fine showing this season that a Southern California alumnus reportedly is making his trip possible, a full week's vacation.

Savoy may decide to remain in Los Angeles and go to college somewhere on the coast.

throw the blame on the business world," McNary declared, contending that the present recession would be handled in an "open and frank manner."

McNary contended that business is "entitled to some control but not all of it." The minority leader said that fear had resulted from apprehension as to the future policy and legislation of the administration and the disappointment at the effect of laws that already have been enacted by the New Deal.

G-MEN SMASH FAKE W. P. A. CHECK RING

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Dec. 30.—(UP)—Federal authorities today believed they had smashed a statewide ring of government pay check forgers with arrest of five persons in widely separated sections of the state.

In custody here was R. D. Stevenson, asserted "brains" of the gang, who has been held incommunicado since his arrest Dec. 15 at Roseville, S. D. Laforee, 29, Sacramento, commercial printer, accused of printing the checks, was released on $5,000 bail. Laforee told officers he made the checks in the belief he was doing the job for the government after Stevenson and another man had represented themselves as WPA officials.

Others reported under arrest in connection with the forgeries were Mrs. Lee Thompson, 32, taken at Stockton and removed to Los Angeles; Thomas W. Stedman and Leslie Wheeler, both in custody at Los Angeles.

HASTINGS COLLEGE FIVE AT WHITTIER

WHITTIER—A squad of barnstorming Hastings (Neb.) college basketball players invades the Whittier college gymnasium tonight for the final contest of their 3000-mile tour to the Pacific coast.

Coach Thurlio McGready brings here eight lettermen from last year's N.C.A.C. champions, headed by Dick Marvel, six-foot-six center.

In the Whittier Poets they will meet a high-scoring club that is a co-favorite with San Diego State for the Southern California conference title. The Poets list as their aces Wayne Wilson, all-conference forward of last year, and Leland Woodward and Jack Schell, both chosen on the all-junior college team at Fullerton last season.

municipal authorities to maintain electric service, Bardens said, but it was believed their appeal would be in vain.

The United States Gunboat Sacramento arrived at Woonung, near Shanghai, with refugees from Tsingtao including 27 Americans. There remained at Tsingtao 158 Americans, with 13 more in the country nearby and 11 in the Tsin.

Japanese airplanes resumed their bombing raids, with troop concentrations, airports and strategic railroads in central and Southern China the targets.

There was evidence that the Japanese were most angry over the continued guerrilla warfare in the northwest by the eight route army, the former Chinese Communist army, and associated forces.

Chinese sources reported that a battalion of women had been formed by the eighth army, and that they were now fighting Japanese troops in the Wutaihan district of Shanai.

Chinese asserted also that Chinese guerrilla fighters had taken the town of Kwangteh, in the lake district west of Shanghai, far inside the Japanese lines.

Dispatches from Hong Kong reported that Japanese warships and airplanes were increasingly active off the mouth of the Canton river.

PUBLIC DEBT WILL HIT NEW HIGH SOON

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—(UP)—The public debt today appeared destined to rise to an all-time peak of approximately $37,000,000,000 within the next two months.

This possibility was supported by statements of treasury officials that new money borrowing by the federal government would begin after the first of the new year to bolster the treasury's cash position.

Such borrowing is desirable because the business recession and may lead to greater demands on the treasury during the winter and spring, officials said.

If every man, woman and child in the United States were called on to contribute equally toward immediate liquidation of the anticipated record debt, each would owe $291.

CABINET DISMISSED BY YOUTHFUL RULER

CAIRO, Dec. 30.—(UP)—The young King Farouk dismissed the cabinet of Premier Mustapha Nahaas Pasha by royal decree today as the climax to a bitter constitutional dispute, and called Mohamed Mammoud Pasha to form a new government.

All troops were ordered to stand by for action as the 17-year-old monarch issued the decree dismissing the veteran nationalist leader.

Leaders of Nahaas's Nationalist or W.A.F.D. party are pledged not to participate in any government formed as the result of his dismissal. They have preponderant majorities in both senate and chamber of deputies. Nevertheless, Mohamed Mammoud, president of the Liberal Constitutional Party and himself a former premier, was expected to try to form a coalition cabinet.

STARS ON HONEYMOON

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 30.—(UP)—Virginia Bruce, the fourth wife of the late John Gilbert, and J. Walter Ruben, director, were en route east on a delayed honeymoon today. They were married nearly two weeks ago, but were forced to stay in Hollywood and complete picture commitments.

BRONCOS END 'PREP' FOR L. S. U. GAME

HOUSTON, Tex.—(UP)—Santa Clara's Broncos will hold two workouts today to end preparation for their second assault on the Sugar Bowl football crown against Louisiana State in New Orleans Saturday.

Coach "Buck" Shaw said that X-ray pictures showed Everett Fisher, fullback, and Bryce Brown, end, would be able to play.

The Broncos leave tonight for New Orleans. Today's workouts will be held at Rice institute.

COVINA WINS FROM SAINT FIVE, 19-11

Covina, a comparatively easy victim for Santa Ana high school in the recent tournament at Huntington Beach, turned the tables on the Saint basketball team at Covina yesterday. Coach Joe Koegler's clan came home in defeat, 19-11, although the Saint sophomores eked out a 21-19 victory.

Koegler used his regulars less than a quarter, preferring to give his inexperienced reserves a chance to see some action before the Citrus Belt league campaign gets under way week after next.

STANFORD MOVES ON TO BATTLE TEMPLE

NEW YORK.—(UP)—Minnesota and Stanford, their basketball supremacy firmly established over New York teams, left for other cities today to seek new intercollegiate triumphs.

Stanford departed for Philadelphia for a game with Temple tonight and Minnesota left for Washington for a game tomorrow night with George Washington University.

Stanford beat Long Island University 49-35, and Minnesota edged out New York University 56-31, before a crowd of 18,160 in Madison Square Garden last night. On Monday night Minnesota had beaten L. I. U. while Stanford had taken City College.

Both teams came from behind to win last night. The score was tied eight times and Stanford trailed 21-23 at halftime, but the Cardinals cut loose with 18 points in the last 10 minutes to lick Long Island.

CORAL GABLES, Fla.—UP—Paying $571 for $2, the highest straight mutual payoff at an American race track in more than three years, Eschogh, a three-year-old filly owned by the Woolford farm, won the sixth race at Tropical Park yesterday.

Making her first start since the Riverside Park meeting in Missouri last June, the filly won easily, beating Maebob by two lengths.

GARDEN GROVE FALLS IN FOURTH QUARTER

After playing on even terms through three quarters, the Downey Vikings humbled Garden Grove's Argonauts, 29-19, in a basketball game at Downey. Until Downey racked 10 points in the fourth period, the score was 19-17.

Louie Soto, Downey's Negro forward, rang up 12 digits for point honors.

Art Berry led Garden Grove's attack with a total of eight points. All of the baskets sunk by Berry were shot from the center of the floor. Morie Hapes also starred for Garden Grove although making only six points. His guarding and dribbling were the best on the floor.

PERSONNEL OF 'Y' LEAGUE UNCHANGED

Personnel of the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. Basketball league will be unchanged for the second-half of the schedule which gets under way next week.

At a meeting of managers last night, Wilson's Dairy, powerful first-half titist, elected to play out the string rather than withdraw and enter a county-wide circuit with another Santa Ana team, the Woolen Mills. The County league will be organized at a meeting in the "Y" tonight.

The first-half of the "Y" league will be completed at 7:15 tonight when Wilson's Dairy engaged a hopeful band of Advent Christians.

Last night's bargain billing saw the feature game between Penhall Brothers and M. E. South going three extra periods before the Westminster five won, 27-25. Barr victory over Southern Counties (Las. Montgomery Ward defeated Treesweet Products, 37-25.

AGREEMENT IS REACHED AFTER L. A. CONCLAVE

Wages for field workers on the vegetable lands of Orange county will remain at the present rate of 30 cents per hour for a nine hour day until the vegetable market improves.

After a conference of growers and workers with the Orange County Arbitration board, set up by mutual agreement of growers and workers, in Los Angeles yesterday, that was the decision handed down by the arbitration board.

Considers Requests

The board had under consideration the petition of the growers, Japanese, signed by K. Yamashita, M. Sasaki, T. Ochiyo, S. Murata, T. Higashi, H. C. Minato and N. Nishizu, asking a reduction in the wage rate to 25 cents per hour, and petition of the workers, signed by A. Vigil, M. Sianca, C. Pinon and Lucas Lucio, asking increase to 37 cents per hour.

The workers also asked that tractor operators and teamsters be paid 39 cents per hour, the board declaring it advisable to take that matter up with the grievance committee for consideration. Upon the request of workers that operation of the contract system in harvesting the chili crop be discontinued, the board advised it already had recommended discouraging of contract systems unless unavoidable and then such contractor should be bound by the wage agreements.

Too Great a Burden

Stuart Strathman, George Graham, S. Sasaki and S. Murata represented the growers at the conference. Lucas Lucio and Pablo de la Cruz, the workers. Strathman submitted statistics contending the vegetable market in the county is in "very serious condition" at present and the 30-cent wage is more than the growers can afford. Lucio spoke for the workers claiming the 37-cent rate is necessary because a better standard of living is necessary for the workers and the increased purchasing power will benefit the community.

"The board is sincerely of the opinion that, for the present, the industry cannot bear the added burden of an increase in wages, and at the same time is also sincerely of the opinion that the conditions confronting the workers do not justify them in recommending any decrease in wages," the board's opinion said.

Strathman said pressure of duties would make it necessary for him to resign his position. He recommended Graham, of Placentia, to take his place. Graham was accepted unanimously.

TWO-WAY RADIO SYSTEM PLANNED

FULLERTON, Dec. 30.—Two-way radio communication for police cars of Fullerton is expected to become an actuality within the next three months following application by Chief of Police James M. Pearson for federal licenses for three mobile units. It is possible that Anaheim may join with Fullerton in sharing the expense of the new set-up, it was reported today.

Work of installing the apparatus will be under the direction of technicians connected with the county police radio station, with which the Fullerton department has been associated for the past three years. The Fullerton department was the first in the county to install radio receivers, receiving calls through the Los Angeles station.

Under the new system, it will be necessary for officers employed in the work to be licensed radio operators. It will operate on the same plan as the Santa Ana system.

Police News

On a bench warrant issued by City Judge J. G. Mitchell, Santa Ana, John Ronquillo, 32, 618 Cypress, Anaheim, was arrested yesterday by Deputy Sheriff John Gilmore and charged with reckless driving. Bail was set at $25. Ronquillo was booked at county jail.

Leonard Rubidoux, 26, 209 East Maple, Fullerton, on a bench warrant from Riverside county, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff A. W. Fullerton and John Gilmore, and charged with drunk driving. He will be forced to face prosecution in Riverside.

Arthur Saviers, 24, Fullerton, was charged with failure to support his minor child, after being arrested yesterday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff A. W. Fullerton and John Gilmore.

Located in Colton city jail where he had obtained lodging for the night, Richard Baldwin, 31, fisherman, Costa Mesa, was brought to Orange county jail by Deputy Sheriff A. W. Fullerton and John Gilmore and booked early today on charge of failing to support his wife.

Jim Hamilton, 801 East Fifth, told police last night, his bicycle, reddish brown in color, was stolen between 8 and 10:30 p. m. yesterday from the rack at Walker's State theater, Fourth and Birch streets.

Upon complaint of a local citizen, disturbed by the crowing of a rooster, police investigated. The rooster owner agreed to eliminate the disturbance soon. "We're going to eat that rooster on New Year's Day," the owner said.

Missionaries

The Rev. and Mrs. Joe Henderson of Congo Bele, Africa, who will give an illustrated missionary address tomorrow night at the Christian and Missionary Alliance church.

CHURCH PLANS ORGAN SERVICE

Members of the Christian and Missionary Alliance church, South Main and Bishop streets, will dedicate their new pipe organ at 8 p. m. tomorrow in a New Year's Eve and "Watch Night" service.

Plans for the service were announced today by the Rev. C. D. Hicks, pastor of the church and include an illustrated missionary address by the Rev. Joe Henderson of Congo Bele, Africa. Reverend Mr. Henderson will be assisted by his wife.

Opens With Recital

The program will open with an organ recital by Mrs. Genevieve Vinson. Included in her recital program will be the Bach-Gounod "Ave Maria," Handel's "Largo," "The Lost Chord," by Sullivan, "Awakening Chorus" by Gabriel and "Over the Stars There is Rest."

Following the organ recital there will be a program of songs and hymns featuring the church's mixed quartet and Mrs. Vinson at the organ. The Rev. Albert E. Kelley, pastor of the United Presbyterian church of Santa Ana will deliver a brief address on "Music in Worship."

Following the illustrated missionary address by Reverend Mr. Henderson there will be a program of chorus singing and a vocal duet by the Misses Esther Hoare and Irene Schrock. Prayer service and New Year's greetings will conclude the service.

Beach Project To Start Tuesday

Work will start next Tuesday on a $23,429 WPA street improvement project at Newport Beach, according to Dan Mulherson, manager of the Orange county office of WPA.

The project as set-up provides for improvement of Ocean avenue from 23rd to 30th streets and will provide work for 28 men.

The federal government has allotted $14,756 for the project and the City of Newport Beach will provide an additional $8,673.

Driver Cleared In Death Of Man

Arthur Craft, 20, star running guard on the Santa Ana junior college 1935 football team, was exonerated from criminal negligence yesterday in connection with the death of N. L. Raymond, 74, Orange.

The exoneration came as the verdict of a coroner's jury at an inquest held at the Shannon funeral chapel, in Orange. Raymond died shortly after a car driven by Craft struck the rear of a bicycle he was riding Monday night on West Chapman avenue during a heavy fog. Craft lives at 513 West La Veta avenue, Orange. The death of Raymond was declared accidental by the jury.

STATE BENEFIT PLAN OUTLINED

With payment of benefits under the California Unemployment Reserves act scheduled to begin January 1, Roy Ferguson, manager of the Santa Ana office of the California State Employment service, today outlined regulations governing payment of benefits.

Partial administration of the act locally will be handled through the unemployment compensation section of Ferguson's office at 501 West Fifth street.

After registration, Ferguson said, a waiting period is necessary to allow time for the employment service to find a new job for the applicant, and to permit checking of the applicant's record.

Portion of Earnings
Weekly benefit checks range in amounts, from $7 to $15 for 20 weeks. In no circumstances, Ferguson said, will payments exceed $300.

No benefits will be paid to applicants who worked for employers not subject to the law and they will not be paid to any eligible worker whose unemployment results from a trade dispute. Employers exempt from provisions of the law, Ferguson said, are those who are engaged in agricultural work, those who hire domestic servants and certain maritime services and instrumentalities of the United States.

EXPERT TRACES DANCING TREND

"The American public is following the trend of Negro dancing," declared Miss Gloria Gaylord, of the Gaylord school of dancing, at the regular meeting of the Santa Ana Breakfast club at 7:30 a. m. today at the Main cafeteria.

Tracing the evolution of the dance from the time of the early Egyptian period through the days of the ancient Greeks and Romans, Miss Gaylord gave an interpretation of the various forms that dancing has gone through to arrive at the "Big Apple," the dance that now is taking the country by storm.

Demonstrating the various phases of the dance, Miss Gaylord was accompanied in her talk by William Hampton, who supplied appropriate music for the dances being discussed. Mrs. Scott Waddle accompanied Miss Gaylord in the movements of the "Big Apple."

William Davis was program chairman for the day and introduced the entertainers. Sheriff Logan Jackson was a special guest of Edward Cochems, who presided at the meeting.

Church Arranges Novel Services

An outstanding watchnight service will be conducted at the Four-square church, Fairview and Sycamore streets, Friday night at 7:30 o'clock and there will be a speaker every hour until midnight. The Rev. D. M. Smith with a large number of his congregation from the Four-square church in Anaheim, will be present, and he will be one of the speakers. The Rev. and Mrs. W. Stoval from Costa Mesa also will be present to speak.

Musical numbers and special features will be presented. The public is invited.

Young Driver To Report Accident

Ernest Ruiz, 16-year-old resident of the Mexican colony at 17th and Verano, was asked to make a report to California highway patrol officers, after an accident on the Mexican school grounds, in the colony, late yesterday. Deputy Sheriff A. W. Fullerton and John Gilmore were asked to investigate.

Manuel Vega, 12, resident of the colony, was playing about the school when Ruiz drove the family car upon the grounds, slightly injuring Vega, according to reports. Ruiz said he merely was having a little "fun" when the accident occurred.

Two Stolen Autos Hunted by Police

Two stolen automobiles were being hunted in Orange county today. A car, Model A Ford, 1928 or 1929, was stolen early today from beside the White Elephant cafe, Buena Park, sheriff's officers were informed.

Jess Hardy, 1121-2 North Spadra, Fullerton, told the same officers, a 1937 Plymouth sedan, registered to Mac L. Henry, Garden Grove, was stolen from an alley in back of 314 North Pomona, Fullerton, between 7 and 7:30 p. m. yesterday.

Manuel Vega, 12, resident of the colony, was playing about the school when Ruiz drove the family car upon the grounds, slightly injuring Vega, according to reports. Ruiz said he merely was having a little "fun" when the accident occurred.

Public Warned Of "Short-Changer"

Orange county residents were warned today in a communication to Sheriff Logan Jackson, against an alleged "short change artist," who has been active in this area. J. H. Warden, Buena Park storekeeper, declared late yesterday, a tall, slim man, accompanied by a small woman, attempted to "short change" him.

The man was driving a blue Dodge car, bearing Oregon license plates, Warden said.

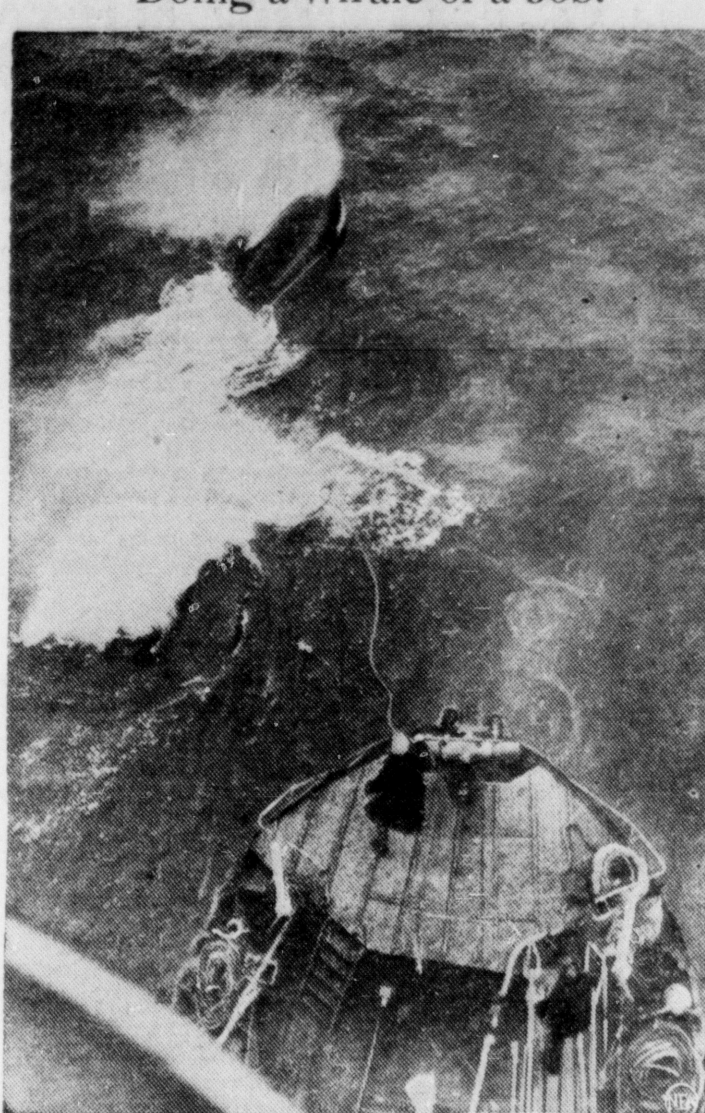

Court Notes

Maebell H. Johnson, of Fullerton, today petitioned superior court to probate the will of her mother, the late Louise Pointer Herndon, who died December 18, leaving her $3000 estate to the daughter. The estate consists of the family residence at 517 West Wilshire, Fullerton.

Public Administrator Earl R. Abbey has been granted special letters of administration over the $23,000 estate left by the late Mrs. Mary Cox Emerson, of Paulinho, who died December 11. The estate was willed to her husband, Edward E. Emerson, who died December 27.

Aurelio Tirado, having previously pleaded not guilty to two counts of issuing bogus checks, yesterday appeared before Superior Judge James L. Allen and pleaded guilty.

Doing a Whale of a Job!

Scientifically conducted now, whaling has lost much of its romance and hazards. Still it ranks as one of the most thrilling of industries. Harpooners have to chase whales for days, frequently, before making their catch. But there's always that exciting moment when the quarry offers himself as a fair target for the harpoon. Then you have a scene like that pictured above as a Kamchatka (Russian) whaler makes a strike. The leviathan spouts spray like a geyser, thrashes the water in its death throes.

DRIVER RESOLVES TO CARRY BROOM, LEARNS ABOUT LAW

A New Year's resolution to carry a broom in his truck in case he has another accident would be fitting for Alfonso Ochoa, of Route 4, Santa Ana, court attaches agreed today.

This unique resolution came about as Ochoa was fined $3 by Judge J. G. Mitchell in Santa Ana city court yesterday for having violated Article 700 of the state Vehicle Code which prohibits anyone operating a motor vehicle from dropping, spilling, or in any way losing anything from said vehicle.

Ochoa figured as one of the principals in an accident involving a car driven by Orolie Saalfeld, 2049 Highway street, in which a load of stumps being hauled by Ochoa was spilled on the street.

John S. Roberts, 1101 French street, was fined $200 following his arrest on a charge of drunk driving.

Mary B. Arnold was fined $7 when she answered in city court for seven different parking citations.

PAINTING, PANEL GIVEN TO MUSEUM

Two gifts, one painting of Modjeska's canyon home, the other a panel of three photographs of Madam Modjeska seated at the fountain of her home, were presented to the Charles W. Bowers Memorial museum, it was announced today by Mrs. F. E. Coulter, curator.

The painting is the work of Frank Coburn, prominent California artist. The photographs were presented to the museum by Everett C. Maxwell, former Santa Ana, who is now director of the Foundation of Western Art, in Los Angeles. The first art critic to be connected with any Los Angeles newspaper, Maxwell formerly was the first curator of art at the Los Angeles Museum before taking his present position.

STEAK CONCERN MOVES TO S. A.

Leasing the old Taylor Cannery at 1663 Palm street, J. P. Smith and Thomas E. Smith, owners of the Chip Steak company of Orange county, have brought a new industry to Santa Ana.

According to J. P. Smith, the plant formerly was located in Fullerton but increased demand for the plant's product necessitated larger quarters and a more central location. At present the Santa Ana plant is distributing its product in all the leading markets from Los Angeles to San Bernardino, in Orange county and all the beach cities.

Increase Anticipated

Four men are employed in the plant and four more men are employed as salaried men. Smith said today that he expects to increase the number of employees as business increases.

"Preparation of chip steaks," Smith said, "is a new idea in beef steak and the only method that absolutely guarantees tender steaks."

COURT DISMISSES HOMICIDE CHARGE

Charge of negligent homicide filed against Salud Vega, 23, Alberhill, following death of Mrs. J. T. Bailey, 45, Whittier, December 29, as result of a traffic crash was dismissed in Santa Ana justice court today by request of Deputy District Atty. J. E. Walker.

Lack of evidence was given as the reason for the requested dismissal. Mrs. Bailey, riding with her husband, at 191 highway an Orangehorpe avenue, December 18, was fatally injured when the Bailey and Vega cars collided. Vega's car assertedly jumped boulevard stop at the time. It was reported officers could not ascertain from witnesses who was driving the Vega car.

The process is patented and the name copyrighted.

Before moving into the new plant the old cannery was remodeled to meet the requirements of the new industry and all modern equipment was installed.

ITALY REMAINS SURE OF GOLD FROM ETHIOPIA

ROME, Dec. 30.—(UP)—Ethiopian gold, platinum, coffee and hides are beginning to pay the huge cost of conquest of the East African Empire.

Italian colonial experts still talk in the most optimistic terms of the mineral and agricultural resources of Ethiopia. However, one year and a half after Italian troops entered Addis Ababa saw only these four products and several others to a minor degree coming out of Ethiopia to help foot the bill.

While much publicity is given to the exploitation of these four key-products, definite statistics are lacking.

Gold, which Premier Mussolini in a recent speech said existed in considerable quantities in East Africa, is being extracted at a reported rate of about 200 pounds a month. Great hopes are held for a doubled output during the coming year.

Six Mines Laid Out
It is reported that six mines are already being exploited. Villages for workers have been constructed and all the necessary modern equipment installed.

At one of the mines in Ugara, more than 150 tons of auriferous soil is treated monthly. Between 15 and 20 grams of gold is extracted per ton of metal producing soil in other zones. This allegedly equals the yield of Rhodesian and Transvaal veins.

The report is current in Italy that another mine will be opened shortly from which experts hope to extract 200 pounds of yellow metal monthly. The opening of this mine would alone double the present output.

About 1,000 pounds of platinum is being extracted from Ethiopian soil per annum at the moment. Like gold, platinum has always been mined by the natives, but in minor quantities.

The output has been increased because of the installation of modern equipment and new methods of extraction. Experts believe they have only scratched the gold and platinum possibilities and that once other zones are studied and new highways built to reach these zones, the yield will show a big jump.

Coffee No. 1 Export
Coffee, which might be termed "Italy's national drink," is Ethiopia's No. 1 export product. Between 300,000 and 350,000 quintals (65 to 77 million pounds) is produced annually.

Only 60,000 quintals of this is annually shipped to Italy. This is explained by the fact that present trade agreements between Italy and Brazil obliges the former to continue importing most of its coffee from South America.

Ethiopia exports the remainder of its coffee to other countries.

Yesterday's newspapers report actress engaged to Barrymore; Rita professes grief and sorrow; Linda is left without proof of her secret marriage. And tonight Barrymore was to have trimmed the tree!

CHAPTER XII
THAT night after they went to their rooms, Linda went about the thing she had set herself to do. Throwing a few things into a bag, she packed the rest of her clothes into her trunk. She could send that later when she knew she was to be. Then, sitting down at the desk in the corner, she wrote:

"Dear Mrs. Trent:
"I am going away now because, although you have been most considerate, now that Barry is gone, I cannot bear this house any longer. Because, you see, Mrs. Trent, I love Barry; and I could not stay and go on pretending."
That was enough. She would not make any claims—even if she had had her wedding certificate, she would not. But something deep within her refused to be satisfied with less than this, as if without it, she had somehow failed Barry.

Slipping the note under the ribbon about Mrs. Trent's knitting basket, she crept downstairs and let herself silently out of the house.

AFTER she had climbed aboard a train for the nearest city, she tried to think—dim, groping thoughts of dazed weariness. Somehow all her planning began to seem childish and futile.

She was absorbed in her thoughts wondering where she might find a job before her money ran out, when she noticed a man smiling and nodding to her across the aisle. It was the funny foreign looking little man who had talked to her about her singing. Now, catching her eye, he leaned over, his round face crinkling like a mischievous little boy's.

"Going home for Christmas dinner?" he asked with that strange twist to the words that was not quite an accent.

"No," said Linda after a moment during which she remembered dully that today was indeed Christmas. "Just to the city."

"Ah!" he said. "Me, too, worse luck! I was lucky to have even Christmas Eve with my mother."

He discovered Linda just as her order was put before her—a modest one, for Tony's prices were in the upper brackets.

of its coffee crop to the United States and north European nations, principally Holland, Sweden and Norway—old customers dating back to pre-Menelik days. Italy encourages these exports, as it brings precious foreign currency to the shrunken Fascist treasury.

Hide Business Good
Skins and hides come out of Ethiopia in considerable quantities but no statistics are available. The only information throwing light on Ethiopian skin and hide production is the report that the Italian company which holds a monopoly on this industry netted a clear profit of $150,000 in the last six months.

Tobacco, precious woods, fibers, cement, fruits, cattle and grains are the other items which are being produced and shipped to Italy in minor quantities.

The presence of iron, tungsten, coal, tin, gas and petroleum is said to have been ascertained by geologists. Furthermore, the natural layout of the huge colony, seven times larger than the homeland, does not preclude its great agricultural potentialities.

For the present, however, there are only these few products to justify the conquest of Ethiopia in an economic sense. Only time will tell whether other items will be added to the small list to help defray the huge bill which Italy had to pay to join the select family of empires of the world.

Narcissus Fresh After Long Trip

WILMINGTON, Del. — (UP) — Mrs. C. R. Richeson has received spring flowers in fine condition from a friend in Cape Town, Africa, a distance of about 8,000 miles.

The flowers, a species of narcissus, were sent by a friend, Mrs. L. Burnham, and kept in a refrigerated room aboard ship.

REVIVAL SERVICES PLANNED AT CHURCH

Plans for a week-long series of revival services to start at 7:30 p. m. Sunday at the Full Gospel Assembly, 1600 West Third street, were announced today by the Rev. Ernest L. Friend, pastor of the church. The services will be in charge of Evangelist Stanley McPherson and his wife.

The Rev. Mr. McPherson and his wife are noted preachers and musicians, according to the Rev. Mr. Friend. The revival services will be held nightly throughout the week.

Members of the church will hold a "watch night" service starting at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow and continuing until after midnight. Principal features of the service will be special music, prayer and a sermon.

Scoffs At Theory Of Youth's Sway

NEWCOMERTOWN — (UP) — This talk about a young man's world and early retirement doesn't mean a thing to Theodore F. Crater.

At the age of 91, he works daily as a cashier in a bank. Born in Newcomertown, he remembers when the old Ohio canal was the main artery of trade until the first railroads were built in the State. When he was 18, Crater enlisted in Co. H, 178th regiment, Ohio Volunteer Infantry, and saw service in the Civil War.

Later, he clerked in a general store for 29 years. In 1893, he became a partner with W. P. and George W. Mulvane and founded the Oxford bank, which has remained his business address to the present day.

PNEUMONIA IN U. S. IS TRACED TO CURB TREND

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Dec. 30. — (UP)—Scientists learned today that pneumonia, rated third highest as a death-dealing disease, is fatal among salesmen and clerks, laborers and factory workers, four times more than it is among professional classes—and that half its victims might be saved through serum treatment.

Drs. Russell L. Cecil, Louis I. Dublin and Donald B. Armstrong of New York told the American Association for the Advancement of Science that the disease has a lower mortality rate among the professional occupational class than any other.

Eight-Year Study
They conducted a study for eight years in 10 selected states. Of their case histories, 13.5 per cent of unskilled workers died of the disease compared to only 3.9 per cent of professional workers.

Agricultural workers were next lowest with a 4.3 per cent rating. The disease has a higher death rating among males than females and the excess is more marked in industrial than in agricultural states, they said.

"Of the number who now die from lobar pneumonia," they reported, "half might be saved through the serum treatment." Pneumonia, they said, causes more deaths than any other disease except the heart ailments and cancer.

Frances Willard

Among the many interesting projects going on in Willard, is a Who's Who being compiled in Miss Helen Glancy's eighth grade music class. "Instead of having a scrap book of famous singers, our class has gone one step further in having this Who's Who," explained Miss Glancy. "The students bring current events pertaining to the person." Only famous singers get write-ups in our Who's Who, as it is quite exclusive," Miss Glancy continued.

The beginners' orchestra, according to Herbert Michel, director, has been preparing for advanced orchestra music.

It is newly organized and its 25 members include Carl Amundson, Verne Cochran, Noah Dickerson, Junior Greene, Jim Hanson, Dick Hill, and Victor Landerhaugh, trumpet players; Virginia Hargett, Bill Wilcox, La Vonne Cole and George Brown, violins; Miriam Christ and Joe Murilla, clarinets; Ambrose Larson and Charles Smith, melophones; Ethelann Williams, Martha Weiman, the cello; Harold Woodsmall, Paul F. Vissman, baritone; and Eugene Dixon, flute; Kenneth Webb, bass; Bob Salcido, the drums; David Heale, saxophone; Don Nelson, tuba; and Ralph Miller, trombone player.

Captains for after school volleyball recently announced the members of the varsities in the three grades. Miss Anderson and Geneva Sawyer chose the members of the all star team. All girls who came out for after school sports will be awarded 50 points and all girls who have been chosen on varsities will receive 100 points. Those on the all star team will be given 150 points.

Members of the all star team are Helen Holzgrafe, Helen Butler, Lola Snoddy, Elaine Reed, and Geneva Sawyer, from the ninth; Maxine Hilliard, Dorothy Winterbourne, Peggy Paul, Pauline Kiech and Marjorie Garret, from the eighth; Dorothy Brush, Elizabeth Brown, Dorothy Bullock, and Helen Carpenter, from the seventh.

Members of the seventh grade varsity are Dorothy Brush, Elizabeth Brown, Dorothy Bullock, Helen Carpenter, Alpha Van Natta, Jean Marshner, Marjory Crump, Betty Shirley, and Maxine Bird. Substitutes are Betty Webb, Dorothy Robinson, and Lucy Lopez, Maxine Hilliard, Pauline Kiech, Janet Coffing, Frances Nall, Rose Marie Chast, Marjorie Garret, Peggy Paul, Jeanne Miller, and Betty Platt are from the eighth grade.

In the ninth grade are Dorothy Eley, Dorothy Raitt, Geneva Sawyer, Elaine Reed, Claire Lee McMillan, Betty Jean McMillan, Betty Crawford, Helen Butler, and Helen Holzgrafe. Clela Stone, Meiva Burke, Helen Garnett, Mable Cradit, and Lillian Tucker are substitutes.

Don Nelson, prominent Willard eighth grader, has the honor of having his picture on the all-personality page of the January number of "Flying Aces," monthly aviation magazine. Don, a prolific producer of splendid planes, displays his "Winnie Mae" model in the photograph. Incidentally, Don is a lucky chap, since he has a swell aunt who helps him with his model hobby.

Nellie Madrigal and Ferie Morrison are the first eighth graders to receive small typing certificates this year. Mrs. Louise Wright, instructor, announced recently. Nellie has attained the average speed of 21 words per minute, while Ferie types at the average of 15 words per minute.

Many means of transportation in the forms of small, carefully made wooden trains and cars, are now in the Willard show cases displayed by Danny Rankin. W. M. Gallo-way, York, Tom Thumb, and other models are on exhibition. Old and new lamps and their shades are now on display, through the courtesy of the Southern California Edison company. These exhibits are sponsored by Mrs. Marion Scott.

Eleanor Taylor, Gloria Kaufman, and Jane Doyle have been assisting Mrs. Mabel Blee in the Willard show cases.

CLUB SPONSORSHIP OF YOUTH ON PROBATION URGED BY JUDGE

"The boy of today has nothing to do, no responsibilities and, in many cases, that proves to be his downfall," Superior Judge James L. Allen told members of the Santa Ana Exchange club yesterday when he spoke at their weekly noon meeting.

Judge Allen was outlining his plan for rehabilitation of young men and boys who have made their first mistake and, because of that mistake, have been brought into criminal court.

Sponsorship Urged
"Many of these young men are entitled to probation and, with proper direction, can rehabilitate themselves as valuable citizens of the community," Judge Allen said. "The problem is to find men who are willing to give some of their time to the saving of youth. That is where you men can help. If you can individually sponsor some youth, worthy of probation you will have helped a lot. If that is impossible individually, maybe the club could sponsor a youth."

Outlining the operation of probation laws, Judge Allen said that when a prisoner applies for probation, it is the judge and not the prisoner, who is "on the spot." The judge, he said, must determine whether the man seeking probation is a criminal or a law violator. If he is a criminal, he should be sent to the penitentiary. If he is just a law violator the next problem for the court is to determine the length of time to which he should be sent to jail as part of his probation, he said.

Laughs At Evasion
"If a man is given too long a term in jail, in comparison to his crime, he comes out with animosity toward the law and law enforcement officers," Judge Allen declared. If his term is not sufficient he laughs at his evasion of the penalty.

He said that at present there are approximately 500 persons on probation granted through the courts of this county.

"It is obviously impossible for officers of the probation department to carry on their regular investigations and at the same time keep track of these probationers and that is why I involved the plan of having responsible business men sponsor worthy young men on probation," he said.

At the close of Judge Allen's talk John Ott, president of the Exchange club, on behalf of the club, endorsed the plan.

laid library since the beginning of school. All books are being kept to the front of the shelves to give a better appearance. The library is looking exceptionally tidy this year and Mrs. Elise wishes everyone to cooperate with her in keeping it neat.

Cecilia Phillips will take the leading role in "The Tying of the Knot," a comedy in one act that will be given in January by the Drama club with Joanne Hockaday directing.

The trouble begins when Gregory Garritt, alias Gasconade Gus, forces Lady Aecia Vandorsloff, played by Cecilia Phillips, to promise to marry him. In the end, just as the preacher is about to say the fatal words, Percy Vere De Vere, the hero, rushes in to save dear Lady Aecia. Other members of the cast will be selected and announced later.

Welcomes Term To Study Plumbing

QUEBEC — (UP) — Albert Lemire returned to jail so he could "finish his plumbing course, get a new suit and $50."

Judge Fortier gave the 30-year-old Montrealese his chance "to make good" by giving him a two-year term when he admitted breaking a liquor store window in Joliette some time ago, but had only got an eight-month sentence which forced him to postpone plumbing classes.

THE OUTSTANDING NEWS EVENTS OF THE YEAR

Wide World Photos, Inc.

ONE OF THE BLOODIEST BATTLES IN 1937'S LABOR WARS: Police fighting with steel strikers near the Republic Steel Corporation's South Chicago plant during the Memorial Day clash, one of the outstanding incidents of a grave nature in a year marked by major strikes in various key industries. Nine men died in the battle in which guns, tear gas, clubs and brickbats were used freely.

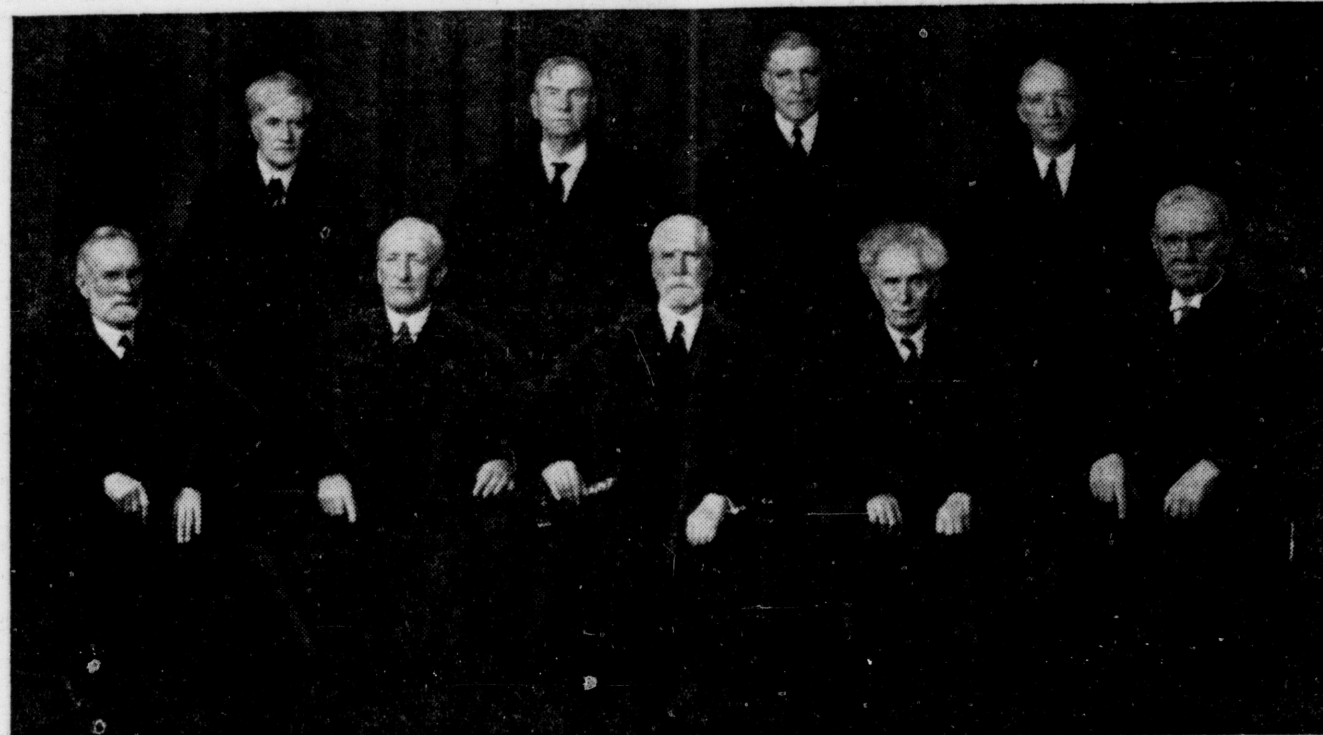

THE HINDENBURG ENDS HER CAREER IN FLAMES: The world's greatest airship plunges to the earth as she prepared to land at the Naval Air Station at Lakehurst, N. J., at the end of her first north Atlantic crossing of the year. Thirty-five persons were burned to death or killed by jumping.

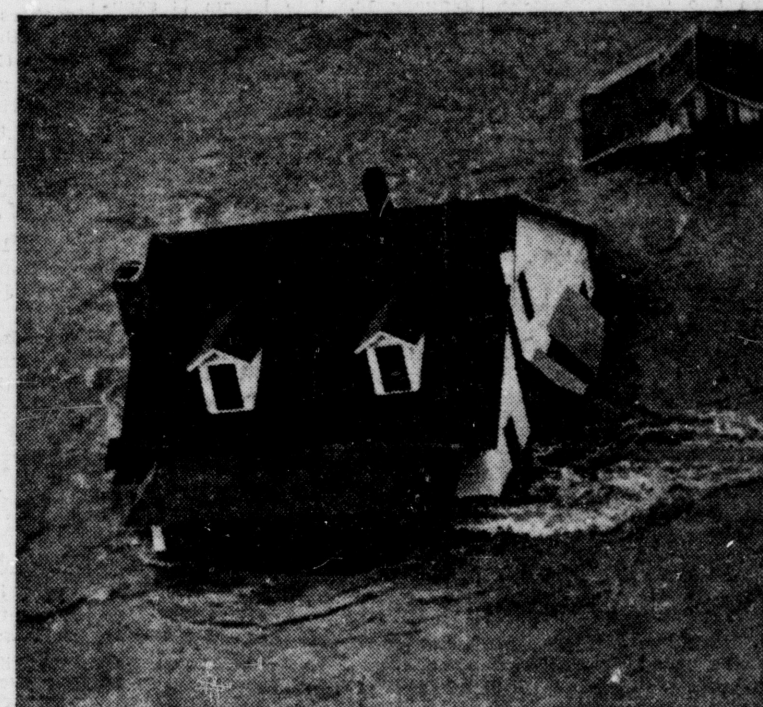

SCHOOL DISASTER WHICH SHOCKED THE NATION: The scene at the Consolidated School in New London, Texas, as frantic parents and rescue workers searched for dead and injured after a terrific explosion of natural gas, used in the heating system, blew most of the main building to pieces. Over four hundred and fifty children and teachers were killed in the blast.

C.I.O. INVADERS FORD TERRITORY: Richard T. Frankenstein, United Auto Workers official, is roughly handled by Ford employees as he and other Committee for Industrial Organization workers begin distributing literature at the Dearborn factory, initiating the C.I.O. drive to bring plant's employees into its ranks.

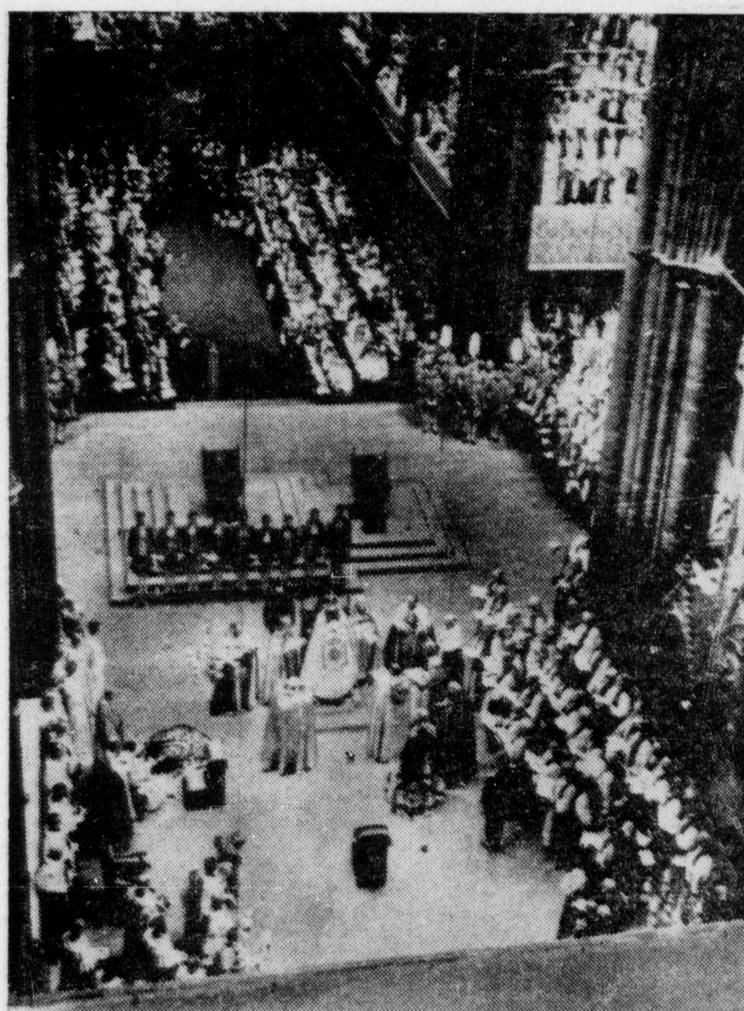

A NEW DEALER JOINS THE SUPREME COURT: With the nation divided into two camps by President Roosevelt's proposal to enlarge the Supreme Court, further bitter controversy on the issue developed with his appointment of Senator Hugo L. Black to the tribunal. The above picture of the Court was made shortly after the Senator had taken his seat. Front row: Justices Sutherland and McReynolds, Chief Justice Hughes, and Justices Brandeis and Butler. Rear: Justices Cardozo, Stone, Roberts and Black. Photo copyright by Harris & Ewing.

EARLY MONTHS OF THE YEAR MARKED BY GREAT FLOODS: A home at Bessie, Tenn., half submerged in water during the Spring inundations which followed the rise of the Ohio, Mississippi and other rivers in the mid-West, South and New England, making 950,000 people homeless and causing property losses of over $400,000,000.

TO LONDON AND BACK IN FIVE DAYS: Henry T. (Dick) Merrill and his co-pilot John S. Lambie Jr. (left), on their return to Floyd Bennett Field, New York, after having completed the first commercial round-trip flight over the North Atlantic, one of the most notable achievements in the aviation history of the year.

A KING IS CROWNED AND A FORMER KING IS MARRIED: Scene in Westminster Abbey as the Archbishop of Canterbury raised the crown over the head of King George VI before placing it on his head at the supreme moment of the Coronation in London. At the right: King George's older brother, the former King Edward VIII, who abdicated the throne to marry "the woman I love," at the Chateau de Candé in France with his American bride, the former Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson. With them is Major E. D. Metcalfe, who served as the Duke's best man.

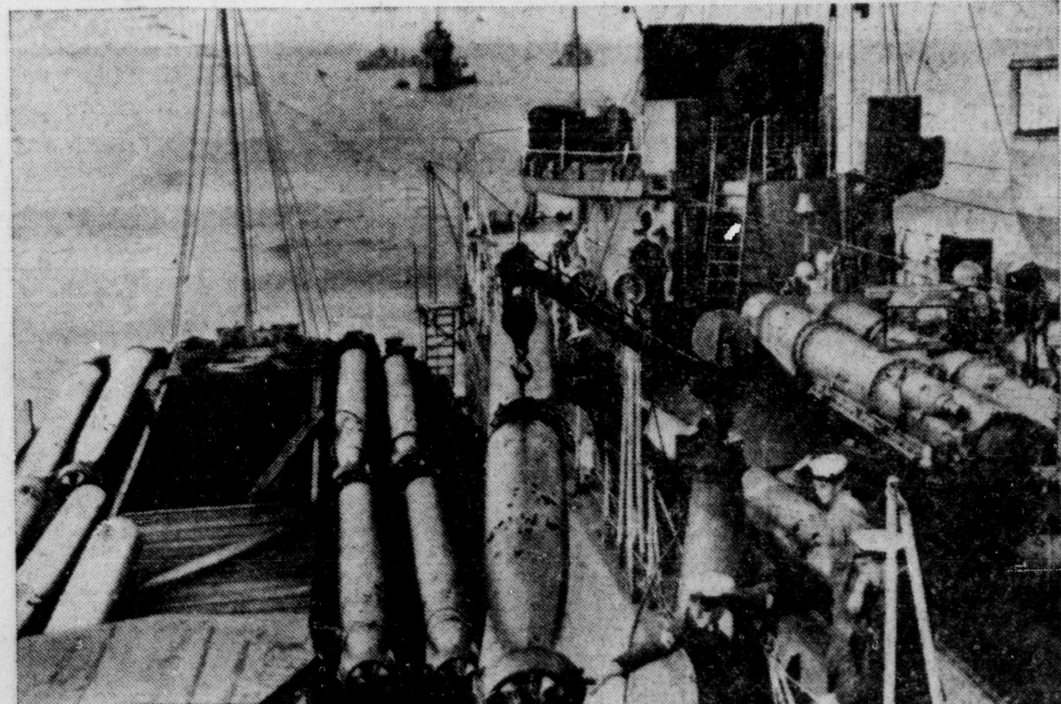

OPPOSING EUROPE'S POLITICAL STATUS QUO THEY FORMED "ROME-BERLIN" AXIS: Mussolini and Hitler at a meeting in Germany where they announced a community of interests. In the latter part of 1937, Italy quit the League, terming it "not only futile but pernicious," and Germany reiterated her demand for her "lost colonies."

ONE OF THE TRAGEDIES OF THE "UNDECLARED WAR" IN THE FAR EAST: The junction of Nanking and Chekiang Roads in Shanghai, after Chinese fliers, seeking to destroy Japanese warships in the Whangpoo River, dropped bombs, killing over 200 people and injuring 470 others. Japan's drive into China, culminating in the capture of Nanking, caused the most important international crisis of the latter half of the year.

FRANCO MARCHES ON IN SPAIN: Insurgent troops, reinforced by "volunteers" from Italy, parading through a street in Santander after they captured it in August. This outstanding victory of the Franco forces in the year-long civil war, released a Nationalist army for the attack on Gijon, last Loyalist government stronghold on the Bay of Biscay, which fell in October.

HISTORY'S GREATEST PIRATE HUNT BEGINS: H.M.S. Blanche taking on a load of torpedoes at Sheerness, England, before joining the British and French warships ordered to destroy "pirate" submarines that had been sinking vessels on the trade routes in the Mediterranean Sea. The patrol was established by an agreement arranged at a conference of representatives of nine European nations in Nyon, Switzerland.

Jimmie Fidler
...in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, December 30.—Settin' Around (Universal): Henry Koster is a name that every theatergoer should know, for it is becoming one of Hollywood's best guarantees of picture excellence. The pictures that he directs have sparkle. He is the ace director of Universal—and to his skill and understanding much of Deanna Durbin's success can be attributed. His success story follows Hollywood's time-honored "Cinderella" theme. Two years ago, as a brand new importation from Europe he could not speak a word of English. His salary—in spite of the fact that he had directed several outstanding European hits—was only $250 a week. Universal shunted him about from pillar to post and finally assigned him to direct a "Class B" production entitled "Three Smart Girls." No one expected it to be a hit—and no one considered its child star, Deanna Durbin, a very likely prospect for top ranking. Koster made that "Class B" production one of the great pictures of the year. His wizardry made her second film, "One Hundred Men and a Girl," even a greater hit.

Koster is now one of Hollywood's highest-salaried directors. Every studio in town would like to have his contract—and I honestly believe that Universal would refuse to trade this thirty-three-year-old German genius for the most famous director of them all.

Spent an hour on the "Mad About Music" set—and was impressed by the complete lack of knowing to the picture's star, Miss Deanna Durbin. Everyone, from director down to the lowliest laborer, treats her with the easiest familiarity which they would accord to the little girl next door. And that attitude is maintained by mandate of the studio's boss, Charles Rogers, who is determined that Deanna shall be one child in screen history who will not be spoiled by stardom. The production crew on this picture is the same that worked on her first and her second films, for Rogers believes that people who know her well are less apt to regard her with awe and shiver with flattery. The only new member of the company is a hair-dresser and I am told that she drew a sizzling reprimand from Producer Joseph Pasternack because she was too flattering when being introduced to the star! Mr. Charles Rogers is a clever man.

As proof that Deanna is still wholly unspoiled, consider this incident, told me today by one of the crew. In order to reach the studio cafe which, at Universal, is outside the main gates, Deanna had been running the gauntlet of the autograph hunters. For fifteen minutes, every day, she was mauled and mobbed by too enthusiastic fans. Finally one of the studio executives, noting her distress, gave her a key to the back entrance of the cafe which enabled her to enter unobserved. A few weeks later, however, she was again trying to fight her way through the

SMITH REVEALS 1938 ELECTION PLANONE DEADLINE FOR VOTERS IS SET AS MARCH 3

There will be no new registration of voters for 1938, County Clerk Basil J. Smith today advised the public, as he prepared for the municipal elections in sixth-class cities of Orange county next spring, and the closing date for registration being March 3.

Smith made his announcement to correct what he said appears to be a widespread impression that an entire new registration of voters is required.

Cites Conditions

Such is not the case, Smith pointed out. Only those voters who failed to protect their permanent registration status by missing both the primary and general elections of 1936, and who have not registered since that time, or who have since moved to a new precinct, should register, he said.

Smith expressly requested voters not to register until the above conditions fit their case. Otherwise, he said, duplication of registration would cause confusion and extra work and expense.

The rest of the county clerk's statement follows:

"For those who have just become citizens, and those who have arrived in the county recently, the law provides that they must be citizens of the United States 90 days at the next ensuing election; residents of the state one year, the county 90 days, the precinct 40 days, at the next ensuing election.

"Do Not Guess"

"It will be necessary to re-register if you failed to vote at the August primary and the November general election in 1936, or if you have moved since voting last.

"If there is any question as to being eligible to vote, do not guess at it. Call the office of the county clerk and we will be pleased to look up your registration, or answer any questions.

"As our time is very limited between the registration closing date and the date of election, we would appreciate it if those voters who have to register, do so as early in 1938 as possible.

"Closing date of registration in cities of the sixth class, which includes all cities in Orange county, except Santa Ana, is March 3, 1938."

FORMER RESIDENT OF S. A. IS DEAD

Word today was received in Santa Ana of the death in Los Angeles on Dec. 13, of Mrs. Webster Moyers, who will be remembered as Miss Laura Taylor, formerly of this city. Her death was sudden, resulting from a heart attack. Funeral services were held at the Breese Brothers' chapel.

This was the first break in a family of seven sisters, four of whom were at the funeral. Mr. Moyers was ill and unable to attend services for his wife. Three of the sisters, Miss Mary Taylor, Mrs. Moyers (at that time, Miss Laura Taylor) and Mrs. Louise Scarborough, made their home for a number of years in this city where they were prominent in First Baptist church and in Eastern Star. Miss Laura Taylor and Webster Moyers were married after the sisters moved to Los Angeles.

Miniature winter and Christmas settings set carefully in place by the late Carl A. Fiene early this month in time for a Christmas open house which has been held for the last 25 years, are to be on exhibition Jan. 2 at the Fiene home, 245 North Grand street, Orange. The exhibition is planned as a memorial to Mr. Fiene who died shortly after the last of the tiny figures and buildings were put in the settings.

Men and women who went to see the Yuletide scenes since have taken their children to see them.

Home Transformed

During the Christmas season for years the Fiene home truly has become the place where everything else was subordinated to this occasion. Floors were spread with grey-green canvas, soft grey-green covers draped over the buffet and the wide ledges that separate the living room and dining room. All of the furniture was removed, leaving nothing to detract from the carefully planned effects.

An old fashioned street lamp in one of the living room always was lighted each evening. On the fireplace mantle were miniature Christmas trees and Christmas greens were everywhere. The decorations were carried out in each room even in the kitchen.

Those who attend the exhibition will see across the long buffet, a procession of camels. The Wise Men are arriving to worship the Christ Child safe in the manger with his mother, Mary, by his side. The wondering shepherds stand in adoration at the opposite side of the Wise Men. A number of the tiny figures came from Palestine, some were brought to the Fiene's by friends traveling abroad.

Lighted With Tiny Lights

Facing each other on the ledges between the dining room and living room are a gingerbread house and a church. The church is fashioned from cardboard and has realistic stained glass windows.

The edifice is lighted with tiny lights, has carved pews, an altar and embroidered altar cloth. And most wonderful of all is a pipe organ, perfect in every detail from keys to pipe and stops the intricate figures came from matches, match boxes and bits of odds and ends.

Those who visit the Fiene home will linger in the blue and white breakfast room where several of the cleverest canaries imaginable and two little linnets raised from nestlings, live in a big cage—but as Kipling says, that is another story.

RECALL PYRAMIDS IN POLICE QUIZ

Desire for some Christmas spending money inspired an Orange man to no small job, according to report of sheriff's officers today.

The man, the officers were informed, assertedly stole 50 to 60 tons of rock from a quarry belonging to the Consolidated Rock Products company, Orange, operated by John W. Sanders. Sanders said the theft occurred between December 1 and Christmas, or thereabouts.

The man accused but not yet arrested, assertedly admitted the theft, going through the O. V. Hall orchard, 446 South Tustin avenue, Orange, to haul the rock away. The rock was valued at $55. Sanders said he would sign a complaint.

HEALTH AUTHORITIES SQUINT
AT NEW YEAR RESOLUTIONS AND FEAR SPREAD OF "RASH"

Santa Ana broke out in a rash of New Year resolutions today, the epidemic reaching such proportions that health authorities were beginning to stir uneasily and discuss quarantine measures. They agreed that it was the worst public menace since late in 1936.

Almost everybody appeared to be affected, or infected, and the precipitation, as measured at 7 a. m. today, reached nearly six feet deep at the courthouse and city hall, while down-town streets were running gutter-full with the stuff.

"Don't Ride Retreads"

Since the health authorities advise against driving the infection back in, and say it is better to let it erupt, The Register decided to print the resolutions, as a public health measure. Here they are:

Sheriff Logan Jackson: I hereby resolve not to ride the county supervisors during 1938. I don't ride on retreads.

Dan Mulherson, county WPA manager—"What's the use? They never last. I mean resolutions.

Elmer Heldt, manager Southern Cal. Auto Club—I resolve to smoke only other people's cigars, and to limit the number to half a box daily.

To Place Legal Tacks!

County Auditor W. T. Lambert—My resolve is to continue placing legal tacks in the chairs of the county supervisors. I wanna L. C. Smith.

Purchasing Agent Eugene Feneclon—Yah can't have it. I mean I resolve to buy everybody everything they want in 1938, fer gosh sakes, so will everybody please shut up?

Supervisor N. E. West—Fee, fi, fo, fum. Especially fee. It isn't you you buy it FOR, Gene, that counts. It's who you buy it FROM, I mean. I resolve to keep my feet on the ground during 1938. No more airplane rides. In some ways, 1937 has been appalling.

Assessor James Sleeper—My New Year resolution is to keep right on giving the taxpayers good service, and any dad-burned little shrimp who says I don't had better not let me hear him.

City Librarian Ethel Walker—I hereby resolve to organize a Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Book Worms.

Lays Off Cleaver

Steve Davidson, president of Central Labor Union and business agent for meat cutters' union—I hereby resolve not to carry a meat cleaver to meetings of the Central Labor Union.

Harold Wahlberg, county farm advisor—I hereby resolve to keep all frost out of Orange county, and to supply ample rainfall. What more can a farm advisor do?

W. N. Corey, assistant farm advisor—I resolve to see that livestock of the county is sprayed with perfume, so as not to offend the delicate nostrils of county officials.

Postmaster Frank Harwood—I always break 'em, so why make 'em?

Superior Judge H. G. Ames—My New Year resolution is to appoint four judges of juvenile court in my place. They're trying to run it anyway, and we might as well make at least on of their acts legal.

District Attorney W. F. Menton—My resolution for 1938 is to get a job as special counsel for the board of supervisors. It pays better than my job as their elected legal advisor.

Brown Is Reticent!

C. J. Marks, new secretary of the farm bureau—I resolve to be big-hearted and share all my burdens with whoever will bite.

R. D. Flaherty, now farm bureau organization director for western states—I resolve to see that state

REALTY BOARD
INSTALLATION
IN JANUARY 14

President-elect Ray Goodell and other recently named officers of the Santa Ana Realty board will be installed at a luncheon meeting to be held at noon January 14 in Green Cat cafe, according to Retiring President Earl Hawks.

Hawks also revealed that tentative plans have been made for the installation of officers of realty boards in several other Orange county towns at the same meeting.

Grover Russell, of Whittier, president-elect of the California State Real Estate association, will be the installing officer and one of the principal speakers. The other speaker will be State Real Estate Commissioner Mortimer Clark.

In addition to Russell, other officers of the state organization including Secretary Glenn Willaman, will be in attendance at the meeting.

Hawks announced that more than 20 members of the Santa Ana Realty board are planning to attend the installation of President-elect Russell and other state officers to be held January 8 at the Whittier Women's club. More than 500 realtors from all over California will attend the affair, which will start with a luncheon.

S. A. Lifeguard
Weds L. A. Girl

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Smith, of 915 Kilson drive, today announced the marriage of their son, Eugene C. Smith of Honolulu, to Miss Evelyn Thorne, of Los Angeles.

A graduate of Santa Ana high school, Smith has been engaged in lifeguarding at Walkiki Beach for the past several years and this season has been placed in charge of the entire beach operations.

Smith was formerly life guard at Balboa Island.

E. T. Piatt Joins Securities Firm

In line with a policy of aggressive growth in Southern California during the past few years, William A. Lower & Co., investment securities firm, today announced the expansion of the Santa Ana office and the addition of new facilities for security investment. The office will have the same address in the First National Bank Building.

This branch of the firm, established six years ago, has been in charge of Lester W. DuVal since last July. Rapidly increasing business during recent months has necessitated the expansion move. Associated now with DuVal is E. T. Piatt, Miss Winona T. Fair acts as secretary of the branch.

William A. Lower & Co. also maintains offices in Los Angeles, Long Beach, Pasadena, San Bernardino and LaJolla.

BULLETS PROFIT CHILDREN

LONDON (UP)—Bullets buried on Salisbury Plain are bringing small fortunes to children. They are digging them up and selling them to dealers at Salisbury for a penny a pound. Millions of rounds of ammunition were fired on the Plain when soldiers were encamped there during the war.

Elect Kirby
President
Of Builders

Donald Beach Kirby, architect of Balboa Island, was elected president of the Orange County Builders Exchange at the regular meeting of the board of directors last night at the exchange offices in Santa Ana.

Plan Annual Parley

Other officers elected were: Charles E. Bressler, first vice-president; Ray Taylor, second vice-president; William J. Tway, treasurer; and Goodrich W. Bassett, secretary-manager. Directors voted unanimously on all of the ballots.

Following the election of officers, Ray Taylor was appointed chairman of the entertainment committee for the annual meeting and "Ladies Night" to be held Jan. 11, at the American Legion hall in Orange.

A short business session concluded the meeting.

LEACH WILL GO HOME SATURDAY

Detective Sergeant Hunter Leach, who has been confined to St. Joseph hospital for several weeks and who recently underwent a delicate brain operation for removal of two blood clots, will be taken home Saturday, according to his physician.

Leach will be well into three weeks, the physician believed, but the policy pursued at the hospital will be maintained at his home for at least two weeks—no visitors.

Charges Recalled

Leach was taken ill, mysteriously, en route home from Tucson, Ariz., with a prisoner, John Madden, Camden, N. J., who faces charges of issuing fictitious checks here.

At Pomona, railroad officials wired Los Angeles police that Leach was in semi-conscious condition and Los Angeles officers should meet the train. The prisoner was assisting Leach, Los Angeles police said.

During rational moments of Leach's illness, he charged the prisoner had slugged him. A noted brain specialist of Los Angeles and Leach's doctor agreed the blood clots could be caused by a slugging, or even a blow with the open hand, but pointed out they did not necessarily mean the prisoner had anything to do with the injury. When Leach is entirely well, he will be asked to tell details of the trip from Arizona.

BEAVERS IN MISSOURI

KEYTESVILLE, Mo. (UP)—A colony of what is believed to be the only native beaver in Missouri has been found in Charlton county near Sumner. Last summer a temporary colony was located in Atchison county.

Santa Ana's Betrothal Is Told In L. A.

Given yesterday in Los Angeles, a ten in which a number of prominent Southland families figured, here special interest for Santa Ana, since it served to announce the betrothal of Miss Kathleen Higgins to William Spurgeon III, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Spurgeon Jr., 1617 North Main street. The bridegroom-elect's grandfather, the late William H. Spurgeon, was founder of Santa Ana.

Hostess was Miss Cecile Hallingby, entertaining in her home on South Orange Drive in compliance to Miss Elsie Jane Burkett of South Pasadena, who is home from University of Michigan.

In the receiving line were Mrs. W. H. Spurgeon Jr. and Mrs. A. C. Abbott, mother and grandmother of the bridegroom-to-be; together with the hostess, her honor guest and Mesdames Paul Hallingby and H. U. M. Higgins. Those assisting included Mrs. Sherrill Rice of this city, sister of William Spurgeon III, who is named for the wedding of the young people. Mr. No date has been named for the wedding of the young people. Mr. Higgins is a graduate of Pomona college, where he was a member of Phi Delta. He did graduate work at University of London. His fiancée, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. U. M. Higgins of South Mansfield avenue, Los Angeles, attended University of Southern California, and is a Kappa Alpha Theta.

Many Features Mark Reception In Midway City Home

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. McWhinney's pretty new home on First street, Midway City, was scene of a reception attended by 250 guests recently when a housewarming was combined with features of romantic interest, since the affair honored a recent bride and also served to announce the engagement of the daughter of the home.

Coming as a surprise was news of the betrothal of Miss Patricia McWhinney to Charles Van de Water of Long Beach, son of Mrs. Edith Van de Water, national Republican committeewoman. Parchment scrolls tied with white satin ribbons were distributed as favors during the refreshment interval. The wedding is planned for March, 1938, with the young couple to reside in Los Angeles, where Mr. Van de Water is connected with the Metropolitan Water company. He is a graduate of Pomona College and Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and it was at Pomona College that he and Miss McWhinney met.

Sharing honors with the bride-elect was the recent bride, Mrs. John McWhinney, who was presented to friends of her husband's family at this charming affair. The marriage of Miss Virginia McKillop and John McWhinney was a smart social event in the bride's home city of Sioux Falls, South Dakota, three months ago. The couple first met at University of Colorado. They now are located at Lakewood Village.

Assisting in extending the hospitality of the home during the afternoon and evening were Mesdames William Morgan, Mark Kuhn, Ned Griffin, Leland Edwards, Paul Enloe, Gregg Haskins, Albert Osborn and Harvey Leohridge. Lighted white tapers and festoons of fir boughs provided a holiday setting for the affair.

The Chenoweths Stage Lively Dinner for Younger Set

Enlivening the holidays in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd A. Chenoweth, 2611 North Park boulevard, was the brief visit of their nephew, Ensign Stuart Fletcher of the U. S. S. Humphreys now stationed at the San Diego Naval base, and of his close friend, Ensign Jack Carlson, with whom he roomed aboard the U. S. S. San Francisco and who is still stationed on that vessel in the base at Long Beach.

Last night Mr. and Mrs. Chenoweth gathered together a little group of close friends of the two young naval men, for a delightfully informal dinner in their home. Included were two close Washington friends of Ensign Fletcher and his bride, the former Miss Cabelle Ducey, who is with her father in Washington at present. These friends were Miss Betty Bruns, who is en route to Honolulu, where her father, Captain Bruns, will be stationed at Pearl Harbor, and Hamilton Gale.

Invited to dine with them were Mr. and Mrs. William Thornton White Jr., the Misses Prudence Roberts, Kate Lillard and Nancy White, with Tommie Moore of San Francisco who is the holiday houseguest of Mr. and Mrs. James Irvine at San Joaquin Rancho.

After-dinner gaieties included a series of clever games introduced by the hosts, which not only provoked gales of merriment, but yielded the most absurdly delightful little prizes that were claimed by the young people.

Sigma Theta Members Share Hospitality Of Sister Hostesses

Adding to the enjoyment of Sigma Theta sorority's meeting last night in the home of the Misses Barbara and Louise Rurup, 1631 West Washington avenue, was the presence of one of the co-ed members, Miss Barbara Davis, home from her studies at University of California.

An informal time was climaxed with the serving of sandwiches, fruit cake and other dainties of holiday time. Red tapers gleamed on the dining table, where a long centerpiece was in furtherance of a red and green motif.

Present were Miss Davis and her houseguest, Miss Barbara Schmidt of Berkeley; the hostesses, the Misses Rurup, and the Misses Betty Campbell, Ruth Baker, Valerie Demetriou, Loretta Spangler, Dorothy Gowdy, Betty Wiswall, Mesdames Joseph Irwin, George Preble, Red Cartwright, and pledges, the Misses Elaine Farmer, Julianne Wolven and Virginia Haradin.

The next meeting will be held Wednesday evening in Miss Campbell's home.

Tea Musicale Proves To Be Announcement Of Betrothal

Roses, holly and poinsettias are not the only things to flower at Christmas time. For it is a happy season for the flowering of romance, as was exemplified yesterday afternoon at Santa Ana Country club where Mrs. Goodrich W. Bassett and her daughter, Miss Frances Bassett, received a large group of friends at a tea-musicale announcing the betrothal of Miss Bassett and Frederick G. Schrock, son of the Rev. Perry Frederick Schrock, pastor of First Congregational church, and Mrs. Schrock.

It was a lovely scene in which the daughter, Mrs. Perry Frederick Schrock, Miss Mary Schrock, of this city, Mrs. L. M. Cutting, Mrs. Bert Eddy, Miss Virginia Eddy, Los Angeles; Miss Stella Van Horne, Mrs. Bert Winslow, Long Beach; Mrs. Ray Hull, Miss Betty Hull, Lynwood; Mrs. R. S. Briggs, Costa Mesa; Miss Eleanor Buckner, Orange; Mrs. Jack Hindlestone, Anaheim; Miss Ann Sutherland, Tustin; Mrs. William Katelman, Miss Dorothy Katelman, Glendale; Miss Josephine Owen, Lone Pine.

Santa Ana friends included were Mesdames John Tessmann, William Knight, Norman Hicks, Carl Hopkins, W. S. Buchanan, Ivon McFarlane, Frank Cooper, R. E. Coulter, A. E. Miller, Emmett Elliott, the Misses Myrtle Martin, Jean Treadwell, Betty Hill, Bernadine Helbers, Marjane Belcher, Nina June Robertson, Beatrice Miller, Elizabeth Robinson, Margaret Baxter, Charlotte Stafford, Jean McKamy, Natalie Neff, with David Craighead and Frederick Schrock who came later to greet his fiancée, and was accompanied by her brother, Richie Bassett.

Receiving Line
In the foyer where guests were received, Mrs. Bassett and her daughter were joined by Mr. Schrock's mother and sister, Mrs. Perry Frederick Schrock and Miss Mary Schrock. Mrs. Bassett wore a gown of apple green corded tulle; Mrs. Schrock was in deep blue lace; Miss Bassett's pretty frock was of soft black velvet in tunic style, worn with gold sandals, and Miss Schrock was vivid in lipstick red. Mr. Schrock had sent a long cluster of gardenias to his fiancée, and sweet peas in different colors to the two mothers and to his sister.

Mrs. A. E. Miller, Country club hostess and a friend of the Bassetts of many years' standing, wore flower-embroidered black silk net, and assisted in hostess duties as did Mrs. Schrock's sister, Mrs. L. M. Cutting of Los Angeles, also gown in black.

The musical program included a succession of softly played melodies as the guests were gathering, with Miss Eleanor Buckles at the piano. More formal features included two violin numbers, Schubert's "Ave Maria" and "Czardas" (Monte) by Miss Charlotte Stafford and David Craighead as her accompanist. The Misses Nina June Robertson and Marjane Belcher sang "Do You Remember" from "Maytime," with Miss Buckles at the piano. She remained to accompany Miss Belcher in the solo, "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," after which Miss Margaret Baxter played two piano numbers, "To Spring" (Grieg) and Liszt's "Liebestraum."

At Tea Hour
At the tea hour screens were removed to reveal a beautifully appointed table where silver leaves encircled slim scarlet tapers flanking a central arrangement of silvered grasses that soared like a fountain spray from iridescent scarlet balls. Presiding at the tea and coffee urns were Mrs. Bert Eddy, aunt of Miss Bassett, and Mrs. L. M. Cutting, aunt of Mr. Schrock. A variety of tempting sandwiches, cakes laid in scarlet poinsettia design, salted nuts and mints in fascinating little clusters of grapes and other fruits, were served. On each plate scarlet and silver hearts were linked together with a silver arrow inscribed "Frances and Fred, 1938."

Mrs. Bassett is in her sophomore year at Santa Ana Junior college where she will graduate with the February class. Her fiancée likewise attended Junior college, finishing at University of Southern California in 1933, where he majored in merchandising. The young people are not revealing the date for their wedding, but it is probable that it will be an early summer event.

Announcement party guests included many Junior college friends, but the most pleasant thing was the unexpected presence of Miss Bassett's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kent of San Francisco, who arrived yesterday afternoon expecting to surprise the family, only to be completely surprised in turn, when they arrived at the clubhouse.

Present was a guest list for this interesting affair with Mrs. Bassett and her charming young

You and Your Friends

Four Generations Join In Silver Wedding Observance

Combining a celebration of the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. McGowen of Costa Mesa with a holiday get-together, four generations of a family group were assembled recently in the home of Mr. McGowen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McGowen, 1421 South Flower street.

With the honored pair were their three sons of the home, Glade, Deane and Gordon McGowen of Costa Mesa; a son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Al Deter and daughter, Lora Lee of Whittier; a son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. McGowen of this city.

The hosts, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McGowen and their daughters, the Misses Lillie, Louise and Eunice McGowen of the home, were joined by another daughter and sister, Miss Edith McGowen of Fresno, in giving the affair. The northern resident will be here for several weeks.

Completing the group were the J. H. McGowen's grandson and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Harold McCue and son Donald, and a great grandchild, Miss Vera May Watkins of this city; with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mitchell and son, Jimmie of Huntington Park; Miss Margaret Parmelee of Fresno and Lutha Parmelee of Los Angeles.

Donald McCue, Vera May Watkins and Lora Lee Deter formed the group of three great-grandchildren sharing the affair with Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McGowen.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. McGowen were married December 24, 1912 in Forestville, California. In celebration of their anniversary, they received a set of china from the family group. The gift package was wrapped in silver and topped with silver bells.

DESSERT AND DANCING

Entertaining a party of five couples, Lucius Smith was host at a dessert party Monday evening in his home at 1228 North Broadway.

The attractive dessert course was served buffet style from a lace-covered table centered by flowers in holiday colors.

Later the party motored to Los Angeles for dancing.

Included in the group were the Misses Josephine Butler, Anne Wetherell, Mary Henderson, Muriel Snyder and LaVonne Frandsen and Mrs. Bob Fowler, Jack Robinson, John McBride and Dick Phillips.

CALIFORNIA CHEERERS

Among those cheering for University of California's football team at the Rose Bowl in Pasadena New Year's Day will be Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Davis and their coed daughter, Miss Barbara Davis, home for vacation from her studies at Berkeley.

In their party for the parade and the football game will be their houseguest, Miss Barbara Schmidt of Berkeley, who has been here for several days; and Lester Rohwer of Berkeley, who will be a week end guest in the Davis home.

HOME FROM LOS ANGELES

Dr. J. M. Raugh, Mrs. Maud Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Raugh of this city have returned from Los Angeles, where they enjoyed a few days' stay in the home of Mrs. Ella R. Miller.

The local group was entertained by Mrs. Miller at dinner Christmas day. Others in the party were Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Martin and T. F. Shaw, Glendale; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gilbert Jr. and daughter, Sharon Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Martin and Edward Thompson, Pasadena.

TO ATTEND GAME

Among those planning to attend the New Year's game at Pasadena Rose Bowl are Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Farwell, Yorba street, Dr. and Mrs. Horace Leecing, 2117 North Flower street and Mr. and Mrs. Horace McKieley of Los Angeles, who will form a party.

Mr. and Mrs. Farwell and their children, Barbara, Nancy and George, have just returned from Los Angeles, where they spent part of the holidays with Mr. Farwell's mother, Mrs. Lyman Farwell.

FAMILY DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Shands were hosts at a holiday turkey dinner in their home, 949 West Highland street, where a family group assembled.

Guests were Mrs. R. Dobson, Los Angeles; Mrs. Strong and Miss Judith Lee Holland of Santa Monica; Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Holland, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Cormier, Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Dobson, Miss Marilyn Shands, Sidney Holland Jr., Bobby Dobson.

SILVERADO

SILVERADO, Dec. 30. — Steve Hamilton is home from a visit with relatives in Maine.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey French and two children, Freddie and Mary Abigale, have rented the Brinkerhoff cabin for the coming months. Harvey French is the ranger in charge of the fire station, where he will be until May 1, when L. H. Lewis will return to take over his duties as ranger.

Stanley Kolendowski, of Long Beach, was a Sunday visitor of Miss Madeleine Taylor at the D. M. Waite home. Mrs. Harriet Kirby of Long Beach, entertained Mike Ryan and son, Arthur, and Jacques Armand, of Hollywood, at her cabin recently.

Mrs. Gladys Cook of the Hough tract is confined to her home with influenza.

Unique Dinner Presented By Host Quartet

Successful hunting in the wilds of Wyoming on the part of Roy E. Langley and Edwin D. Holmes Jr. on a recent interesting expedition, had the happy sequel of a dinner party last night at which Mr. and Mrs. Langley and Mr. and Mrs. Holmes entertained in the Langley home, 2453 Riverside Drive.

Much originality was displayed by the two hostesses in their decorative plan for the dinner table. Its waters crystallizing into ice amidst snowy banks where pine cones, small deer figures were posed at the lake edge, while even the place cards were in the form of tiny bears peering around convincing stumps.

If the table setting suggested the hunting trip of the hosts, the menu carried the idea much further, for it was planned around the chief course of toothsome elk roast, a new delicacy for the majority of the guests.

Covers were laid for the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Holmes and Mr. and Mrs. Langley, and for the Franklin G. Wests, the Milburn Harveys, the George Bakers and Judge and Mrs. G. Kenneth Scovill.

Contract was introduced for the after-dinner hours, and high scores made by Mrs. West and Mr. Harvey, merited the attractive prizes awarded by the hosts.

Mixing Bowl

This recipe for making apple sauce cake is one I can highly recommend since it is baked at least twice a month in our house. It makes a small loaf tin and a 9-inch tube pan full of the best cake you ever ate.

Apple Sauce Cake
1 large cup unsweetened apple sauce
1 cup sugar
2 egg yolks or 1 egg, well beaten
1-2 cup butter or vegetable fat
Cake flour sifted then measured (2 cups)
and sifted twice again
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1-2 teaspoon, each, nutmeg, cloves and allspice.
2 level teaspoons soda dissolved in
1 tablespoon hot water
1 heaping cup of washed and dried raisins
1 small cup dried citron (optional)
1 cup walnut meats, not chopped.
—Personally tested.

I knew you'd be wondering what to do with the egg yolks left from making the frosting for yesterday's cake. Well, this is their spot, keep them with cold water and cover in ice box until ready to use if you are not cake-minded right now.

Cream sugar and butter with the spices. Add beaten egg yolks (or one egg) and whip well, then add the dissolved soda. Alternate apple sauce and flour in mixing the cake, and as you add the flour, drop in small handfuls of the mixed fruit and nuts. Divide batter between pans and bake in a medium to slow oven about 60 minutes.

You'll find that it pays to add walnuts to cakes like this, unchopped. The nuts soften after baking and cut so beautifully you'll wonder why you ever conformed to the chopped nut idea in cake baking.

A recipe you know to be good and a stamped envelope are "coin of the realm" required when you write for the big Calory List.

One of the tests of the bride of the Gay Nineties was her ability to make blanc mange without lumps. If today's bride was so inefficient as even to dream of lumpy food, she'd be ashamed to admit it, much less, prepare it.

Maple Blanc Mange
1 pint rich milk scalded in double boiler
Add tiny pinch of salt and thicken with 2 rounded tablespoons cornstarch, smoothed in
1-4 cup water
Boil 1 cup maple syrup until it will spin a thread, add to thick cornstarch mixture and continue cooking for 25 minutes in double boiler.
Turn into a water-rinsed mould and chill.
Served with whipped cream.

Quickly Made Cinnamon Rolls into a bowl put:
1 egg
1 cup sugar
1-2 cup melted butter or oil
1-2 cup soured cream
1 scant cup sour milk
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon vanilla.
Whip until very smooth, then add enough sifted flour to make a soft rolling dough.
—A tested recipe.

Roll the dough to the thickness of 1-2 inch, spread with cinnamon, sugar and washed currants or sultana raisins. Dribble a little melted butter over dough, roll up, cut and bake in a quick oven... scrumptious for supper or Sunday breakfast.

Girls and Boys Are Guests of Junior Ebell Society

It was all in fun yesterday afternoon in Ebell clubhouse peacock room when pandemonium descended to reign throughout an annual festivity which brought toddling tots and their older brothers and sisters together for Junior Ebell society's annual holiday courtesy to its youngsters.

Boys and girls of senior Ebell members also were included in the hospitality, which was extended to more than 50 children, together with their mothers. Some young mothers were busy chaperoning boys and girls from two or three families; other young mothers were there for the same reason that the children were — just to have a good time.

The first few mothers and children who arrived took seats in the background, enjoying the beauty of the peacock room with its decorations all in readiness for tonight's dance. Clusters of silver and blue balloons are suspended from the chandeliers; blue lights shine from a silvered tree on the stage. These provide the charming setting in which college young people and other "grown-up" sons and daughters of Ebell society members will dance. Tonight's dancing feet will tread the boards where frolicked youngsters yesterday.

It was Mrs. Thoburn White and Mrs. John Lacy Taylor who started the children on their merry way early in the afternoon, introducing games dear to the hearts of the little ones. As London Bridge climaxed the series, balloons were presented to each boy and girl.

Miss Lorrie Buell gave the same comedy dance which had proved such a success when presented before Junior Ebell First Book Review section's "Christmas Dream" audience. Her mother, Mrs. Amy Buell, accompanied. They were secured through Miss Mary Morton of the Putnam studios. The Virol studios provided Jack and Richard Northrup, who gave readings. Mrs. L. C. Davidson served ice cream and animal crackers. Mrs. Fred Burlew, as general chairman of the party, distributed gifts to all the children. Others assisting during the afternoon were Mrs. Albert Harvey, president of Junior Ebell; Mrs. William Fritcher, chairman of entertainment and Mrs. LeRoy Burns. Miss Helen Tietjen had planned the gifts.

Among those present were Mrs. John Lacy Taylor and sons, Dickie and John; Mrs. Thoburn White and son, Jimmie; Mrs. Chester Horton and sons, Pete and Doug; Mrs. Charles McDaniel and son, Leecy; Mrs. Hans Wahlberg and children, Coralynn and Terry, with her mother and sister, Mrs. Cora Cahill and Miss Ann Cahill, of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Albert Harvey and children, Alice and Jack; Mrs. Alvin Stauffer and daughter, Shirley; Mrs. Stanley Norton and sons, Francis Norton, with niece and daughter, Marcia Lee; Mrs. James Workman and sons, David and Jimmie; Mrs. Margaret Barnes and Mrs. George Walker, with granddaughter and daughter, Mary; Mrs. James Merigold, Gwendolyn and Jerry; Mrs. J. H. Ebersole and son, John and nephew, Peter Newman; Mrs. Voorheis, Richard and Edith; Mrs. Harold Dale and son, Harold; Mrs. S. M. Davis and granddaughter, Camille; Mrs. Wendell Finley and children, Warren and Marilyn; Mrs. Robert Wade and children, Ann and Robert; Mrs. Dexter Ball and son, Donald; Mrs. Richard Winckler and Marilyn Nelson; Mrs. Hiram Currey and sons, Donald and Stanley; Mrs. Russell Wilson and daughter, Barbara Joan; Mrs. Ralph Watson and sons, Frank and Lynn; Mrs. W. D. Ranney and Mrs. Clarence Ranney, with granddaughters and daughters, Faith and Joyce; Mrs. H. Raymond Smith and son, Phillip; Mrs. Milton Poppett and Peggy; Mrs. Charles Carothers and grandchildren, Carol Carothers, Peggy and Bobby Smith; Mrs. S. W. Stanley and grandson, Peter Smith; Mrs. Edward Walker and little Donnie Holmes; Mrs. R. F. McKee and daughter, Janet.

IN WAHLBERG HOME

Recent arrival in the Southland of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cahill and son, Tim, of San Francisco, has occasioned many delightful reunions during this happy holiday season, with Mr. Cahill's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Wahlberg giving a dinner last night.

The Cahills are houseguests in the Wahlberg home, 1214 South Ross street, where last night's informal party was held. Mrs. Wahlberg's mother, sister and brother, Mrs. Cora Cahill, Miss Beverly Ann and Bill Cahill of Los Angeles; with Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hanson of Cypress and the hosts and their two children, Coralynn and Terry, formed the group.

Members of the family will spend the New Year's week end in Los Angeles, and will join in a celebration which Mrs. Cahill is planning for those who have birthdays within the next few days.

White Shrine

Having advanced their meeting date from Christmas Eve, members of Damascus White Shrine last night yielded themselves to the pleasant feature of past officers' night after the short opening was conducted by Mrs. Pearl Hyde, high priestess, and her Watchman of Shepherds, W. O. Patterson.

The junior worthy high priestess and watchman of the shepherds, Mrs. Eva Mae McConnell and Neil Beisel, then took the posts of responsibility with junior past officers and various Southland junior high priestesses taking the remaining chairs. There were 10 visiting past high priestesses representing as many Southland Shrines. When members and guests were invited to the dining room they enjoyed refreshments planned by Dr. Estelle Workman and her co-hostesses, Mrs. Neal Beisel. Tables were in white and scarlet with white pottery vases and candlesticks for the poinsettias and red tapers. It was during this informal interval that the Shrine made special gifts to past officers and to the visiting associates.

Only a short period will be devoted to business at the next meeting on January 14, which will be a card party. Damascus Shrine is anticipating the date of January 21 as the official visit of Supreme Worthy High Priestess Elma Hurlinger of Ohio. There will be a dinner complimenting her in advance of the ceremonial meeting.

Guests Arrive From Bay Area To Spend Week

A gay informality is characterizing all the things which the Edward M. Halls are planning for the entertainment of their holiday house guests, Dr. and Mrs. Paul Quarry of Santa Rosa. The Quarrys arrived on Monday at the Hall home, 1901 Helliot Drive, and accompanied their hosts that night to the enjoyable dinner party in the Howard Timmons home on Red Hill avenue, where Mr. and Mrs. Timmons were complimenting two other Southland visitors, Mr. and Mrs. Kress Merrill of Portland.

Each succeeding day has brought some new pleasure, including visits to the faces at Santa Anita. For their evening hours, the Halls and their guests have derived special enjoyment from lessons in dancing the "Big Apple," that latest form of dance mania that has swept the country. Both Tuesday night and last night were devoted to this amusement with a gay group of young people to join in the affair, later repaying to the Hall home for Christmas eggnogs.

Among those to whom the "Big Apple" exerted its own particular lure, in addition to Dr. and Mrs. Hall and their guests, Dr. and Mrs. Quarry, were Mr. and Mrs. Horace Stevens, the Fred Forgy, the Z. Bertrand Wests, Miss Lucinda Griffith, the Braden Finches, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Winckler and Gates W. Burroughs.

This afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Hall were taking their house guests into Los Angeles where tonight they will stage a gay little dinner foursome at the Ambassador in celebration of Dr. Quarry's birthday anniversary, ending the evening with dancing. Dr. and Mrs. Quarry will conclude their Southland visit tomorrow or Saturday with their return north.

Our Children

By ANGELO PATRI

CHILDREN'S PRIVACY

"Shouldn't I know what my daughter is doing? Haven't I a right to know who is writing to her and what it is all about? I think it is my duty to know. Amn't I responsible? My 18-year-old daughter has left home because I opened her letters. I opened them because she would not tell me what was in them. I had to know. Is that any reason why a girl should leave home and disgrace her own mother before the village?"

That is a hard situation for mother and daughter, but the opened letter that brought on the crisis was not the cause. The cause lay far back, eighteen years back, in the relationship that was set up between mother and daughter during the daughter's infancy. That relationship blossomed into this hard situation. The mother is that many years too late to win the daughter's confidence.

To win a friend one must first be one. The element in motherhood that wins and holds the children through a lifetime is friendliness. The close intimacy of mother and baby must gradually merge into one that is somewhat farther away, and yet equally as binding. As the child grows he grows away from his mother, and the wise mother, knowing that, holds him by keeping his friendship.

Friends know each other's feelings so well that they do not intrude upon them. They know each other's thoughts. They are in such close and affectionate sympathy that they rejoice or suffer together without one saying a word to the other. Friends learn to wait for each other's confidence, certain of it as they are of each other. They share life, and so double its meanings.

That relationship must be set before adolescence. It is not set in a day, by any one action, and certainly never by mandate. It is won by devoted day-by-day attention and understanding of the needs of a growing boy or girl. One of these needs, a primary need, is privacy, physical and spiritual.

The human soul has moments when it must be alone, when it must carry its joy or its grief in the solitude of its being. This is true of very little children. You have seen a child sitting apart, looking far beyond this world, lost in some region where you could not follow. If you were wise you tipped away and left him to stay with his soul in peace as long as he needed to.

Adolescent children, having a more complicated world, have more need for privacy. They have shy thoughts; they have half-realized ambitions, vague desires, that they cannot frame in words though they feel them definitely. The anxious prying question such as "What are you thinking about?" Why can't you tell me? You've no business to be thinking things you are ashamed to tell your mother, are like blows on quivering flesh. Let them alone.

You must let them alone. If you are an accepted friend, and you will be if your work has been well done, you will be told in good time. If you are not, you will never be told. You lost your chance long ago.

Mr. Patri has prepared a special booklet (No. 301) entitled, "Obedience," in which he tells parents how to cope with the difficult problems of disobedience. Send for it, enclosing ten cents. NEWS OF ORANGE

NAME SPEAKERS FOR SERIES OF CHURCH NIGHT PROGRAMS

ORANGE, Dec. 30.—Speakers for the series of church night programs to be held on six consecutive Wednesday nights beginning January 5 were announced this morning by R. C. Patton, church school superintendent. The meetings are to open with a fellowship supper to be served at 6:30 p.m. under the direction of the R.P.C. class, with Mrs. Gertrude Robinson as chairman.

At 7:15 p.m. at each of these meetings the pastor of the church, the Rev. Arthur T. Hobson, will give a short talk on the world service program of the Methodist church. The assembly will follow and the address of the evening will be preceded by special music arranged by Vernon Shippee.

On January 5 Bishop James C. Baker of the San Francisco archdiocese will speak on the Oxford conference which he attended. On January 12 the Rev. Lawrence V. Lucas of San Bernardino, former pastor here, will speak on "Russia and Religion." On January 19 Dr. Johnston Calhoun of Long Beach will give the assembly address.

One of the outstanding events of the series will be the address to be given January 26 when Kirby Page, nationally known lecturer and author, speaks on "Must We Go to War?" The speaker for February 1 is to be announced shortly.

The two closing addresses are to be given by Dr. Carl Sumner Knopf, dean of religion of the University of Southern California, and these addresses are to be given on February 9 and February 16.

At the auxiliary meeting of the group held on the 28th, a membership contest to open January 31 and close March 22, Los Angeles are to entertain winners at a dinner. Mrs. Ethel James was installed as fourth chair bearer by Mrs. Esther Hendrickson, of Santa Ana. Meetings are to open promptly at 8 p.m. hereafter, it was announced.

A ward at Sawtelle was adopted, with Mrs. Irwin Seaton as hostess. The group was announced by the Rev. W. C. Federation No. 1 yesterday afternoon when she entertained with a 1 o'clock luncheon. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Minnie Squires, Mrs. Mabel Lee, of Orange, and Mrs. Geraldine Beal, of Santa Ana.

The holiday motif permeated in the decorations and in keeping with the Christmas season Mrs. Merriman presented each officer with a gift, a token of appreciation for their assistance during the past year when Mrs. Merriman was president of the federation.

Present were Mesdames Cora Morgan and Viola Wilson, of Long Beach; Mesdames Elizabeth Ray, Ida Hughes and Mary Mitchell, of Anaheim; Mrs. Valeria Stanley, of Fullerton; Mrs. Lena Hewitt Barrett, of Huntington Park; Mesdames Lavinia Stanley and Ada Florey, of Whittier; Mesdames Mary Rhoden and Anna Launer, of La Habra; Mrs. Katherine Parker, of Huntington Beach; Mesdames Daisy Lauder and Alma Bert, of Midway City; Mrs. Nellie Dunstan, of Garden Grove; Mesdames Estelle Gray and Geraldine Beal, of Santa Ana, and Mesdames Julia Pratt, Mabel Lee, Hattie Burman, and the hostess, all of Orange.

CATS, PARROT DIE IN
ORANGE, Dec. 30.—Two pet cats and a parrot lost their lives in the fire which destroyed the William Alley canyon home this week. The cats had sought refuge from the flames in the only room in the house which was not burned, a bedroom. The Alley, who had gone to Los Angeles early in the evening, returned at 3 o'clock the next morning, starting an immediate search for the family pets.

INDIANA AND PURDUE BEAT TROY, BRUINS

NEW YORK STOCKS

LOS ANGELES.—(UP)—Indiana and Purdue of the Big Ten conference held their second successive pair of victories today over Southern California basketball teams. Purdue defeated U. C. L. A. 62-69, last night in Pan-Pacific auditorium. The half-time score was 35-14.

Indiana's lanky squad won from the University of Southern California, 42-38. The Hoosiers led 20-12 at half time and maintained a five-point margin during the second period until the last six minutes, when the Trojans rallied and came within a basket of their opponents.

At 7:15 p.m. at each of these meetings the pastor of the church, the Rev. Arthur T. Hobson, will give a short talk on the world service program of the Methodist church. The assembly will follow and the address of the evening will be preceded by special music arranged by Vernon Shippee.

DRIVE CAREFULLY—SAVE A LIFE—

DOING SOMETHING ABOUT IT

The dairy farmers of the country face trouble—plenty of it. In most of the big markets, conditions are disrupted for one reason or another. Actions of the "chiselers," price troubles, threats of gang invasions. These are but a few of the problems the farmer faces.

But these farmers, especially those of Southern California, aren't sitting down and letting nature take its course. They are doing something about their troubles. The Associated Farmers of California, an organization 50,000 strong is doing something about it. They told truck drivers that the milk was going to reach the market. They assured the mothers of Los Angeles and Orange counties that their babies were going to get their fresh milk daily—or else.

And the milk has reached its destination. The Associated Farmers practice diplomacy. If that doesn't work they are prepared to handle the situation in other ways. They have to consider and weigh any number of problems, social and economic. And it is the best and soundest instrument the farmer possesses for working out his difficulties.

"STAR-SPANGLED BANNER"

The old row about the Star Spangled Banner's suitability as a national anthem has been fanned into a faint spark once more, this time by the Rev. John Haynes Holmes, who seems to be a New York preacher.

The venerable old tune is "vulgar," "celebrates war," "breathes hatred," avers the Rev. Mr. Holmes. And Nino Martini, Metropolitan Opera singer, adds that "it calls for an extraordinary range even in a professional singer."

Yet somehow for more than 100 years we've been singing it. And so far as the words go, aren't they something like this: "Oh, say can you see, by the dawn's early light, what so proudly we hail'd, da, de, dum dum de do. Dah de da, dah dee dah—" and so on?

At least that's what you usually hear when the venerable old piece is sung. Surely there can't be anything very harmful in that Dr. Holmes.

THE DANGEROUS WALKER

"Dangerous Walking" is inseparable from the auto-accident situation.

Authentic information indicates that 55 per cent of all pedestrian deaths are due in some measure to the fault of the pedestrian. In these cases, the walker isn't the innocent victim he usually is pictured, but definitely contributes to his own doom. A survey of the reports of accidents in the highway bureau on North Main street will prove the truth of these statements, so far as Orange county is concerned.

The highway patrol suggests five simple and practical things the pedestrian can do to keep the Dark Angel at a safe distance. First, obey traffic signals the same as good drivers do.

Second, learn the laws and ordinances in effect in state and city to regulate traffic from the pedestrian's point of view—his rights and his duties.

Third, having done this, the pedestrian is in a position to demand a better acceptance of their obligations by drivers.

Fourth, take a greater interest in traffic problems, and especially in the placement and operation of traffic signals and pedestrian islands.

Fifth, it will be found through these studies that major reductions in the number and severity of accidents to pedestrians can be easily achieved.

The man on foot must contribute his share to the cause of safety, as well as the man at the wheel. Many pedestrians believe they should be allowed to commit almost any traffic error. The sad results of that notion are found in the daily accident figures.

THE UTILITY ARMISTICE

The President's announcement to the effect that he is considering advocating a more conciliatory policy toward the electric industry has focused national attention on that industry's contribution to investment, employment, purchasing power and the recapture of recovery.

Taking the cold figures alone, the industry is of staggering importance. It represents an investment equal to one-third of our present national debt—$12,000,000,000. It serves 26,000,000 American homes, which house 70 per cent of all the population. Its annual gross business is approximately $2,250,000,000, of which about $728,000,000 represents domestic revenue. Since 1912 its taxes have increased 20 times and are now about $300,000,000 a year. Its annual payroll is approximately $360,000,000. Fourteen per cent of all the farms in the country now are served with electricity, as against four per cent in 1925.

Today the industry is in a precarious position. Consumption is holding close to the all time high level. Yet, in spite of the greatly increased demand of the past few years, the industry has not expanded its plant capacity accordingly. Instead of spending the billion dollars a year that, according to experts, it could and should spend in order to keep reserve substantially in excess of demand, it has spent from $200,000,000 to $500,000,000. There is but one reason for that—the threat of government confiscation of the industry plus the subsidized government competition.

Sharing the Comforts Of Life

By R. C. Hoiles

"LIVE IN COMFORT"

On the front page of The Register today is quoted a statement made in the Rugg books to the effect that every American has a legal right to expect a "good standard of living."

The Constitution did not guarantee happiness or a good standard of living to any citizen. All it did was to guarantee the right to the pursuit of happiness. There was no thought whatsoever of attempting to reward any individual for his efforts. The principles of true democracy and of the American government was to keep an open market and to make it possible for every citizen, insofar as possible under a free market, to be rewarded at the same rate per unit of service. Then under a free market and the American Way, a citizen was privileged to learn to do the tasks that he believed were being rewarded at a higher rate than he was getting for the service he rendered.

When the government attempts to guarantee any citizen a minimum standard of living, then of necessity, it must take from someone else and lower his standard of living.

This only makes it comfortable, pleasant and agreeable for those people who cannot adjust themselves to social needs and permits them to multiply and replenish the earth at a much higher rate than those people who are being deprived of the fruits of their work in order to support some on a minimum standard of comfort.

This, of course, encourages shiftlessness and discourages those who are courageously attempting to be of service to humanity.

We know of no place in all history where this policy has long prevailed in which the social unit that adopted this policy was not eventually superseded by a social unit that did not make it an aspiration to raise the minimum standard of living. It is contrary to biology. It is contrary to life. It is contrary to experience. It can lead only to disaster.

The present five-year experience of attempting to raise the minimum standard of living is evidence that it only takes a very short time to change the habits and customs and expectations of people. It greatly reduces the total production and, consequently, greatly lowers the standard of living.

WHY FARM BILL

What has caused the purchasing power of the farmers to be so much less for a given amount of energy than that of the city people? There is a very definite cause for this. The real thing to do would be to remove this cause and let the parity in purchasing power seek its natural level. The very definite cause for low purchasing power of the farmer is the belief that wages in industrial plants can be on a basis of what the individual might need, or a so-called living wage. This belief has been established by public opinion, by sentiment, emotion and by force. Every time a group of individuals gets more than it produces, then some other group of producers must of necessity get less than it produces. This is true even if most of our modern colleges say it is not. This is exactly what has happened to the farmers.

Now the federal government proposes to correct this by taxing the city group to give to the farm group. This all, of course, is an artificial condition brought about by the belief that wages can be artificial. It is even now proposed to do with farmers exactly what labor unions and secret business combinations have done; namely, to curtail production in order to increase the relative value of the production.

We well remember some twenty-five years ago discussing the subject of arbitrary wages with a business associate. We asked at that time what eventually would become of the farmer and the man who was not protected and obliged to work on a competitive basis. We now have the answer. In fact the only way labor groups can raise the yearly wages of those in the group is to limit those who dare join the organization or dare learn the trade. When they admit them all, their yearly wages, just as the builders trade is now, is less than it would be if we permitted free competition to determine what each job should pay.

Artificial Wages Lower Instead of Raise Wages
The result of the whole thing is that instead of raising the real wages of the workers, by limiting production, we have greatly reduced the real wages of the workers and for the first time in our national history we have had a period of five years where the relative standard of living has not improved.

The social doctors, reformers and meddlers, who have been preaching for years that wages should be paid in proportion to needs, now have control of our political institutions. The low standard of living is the result of these reformers.

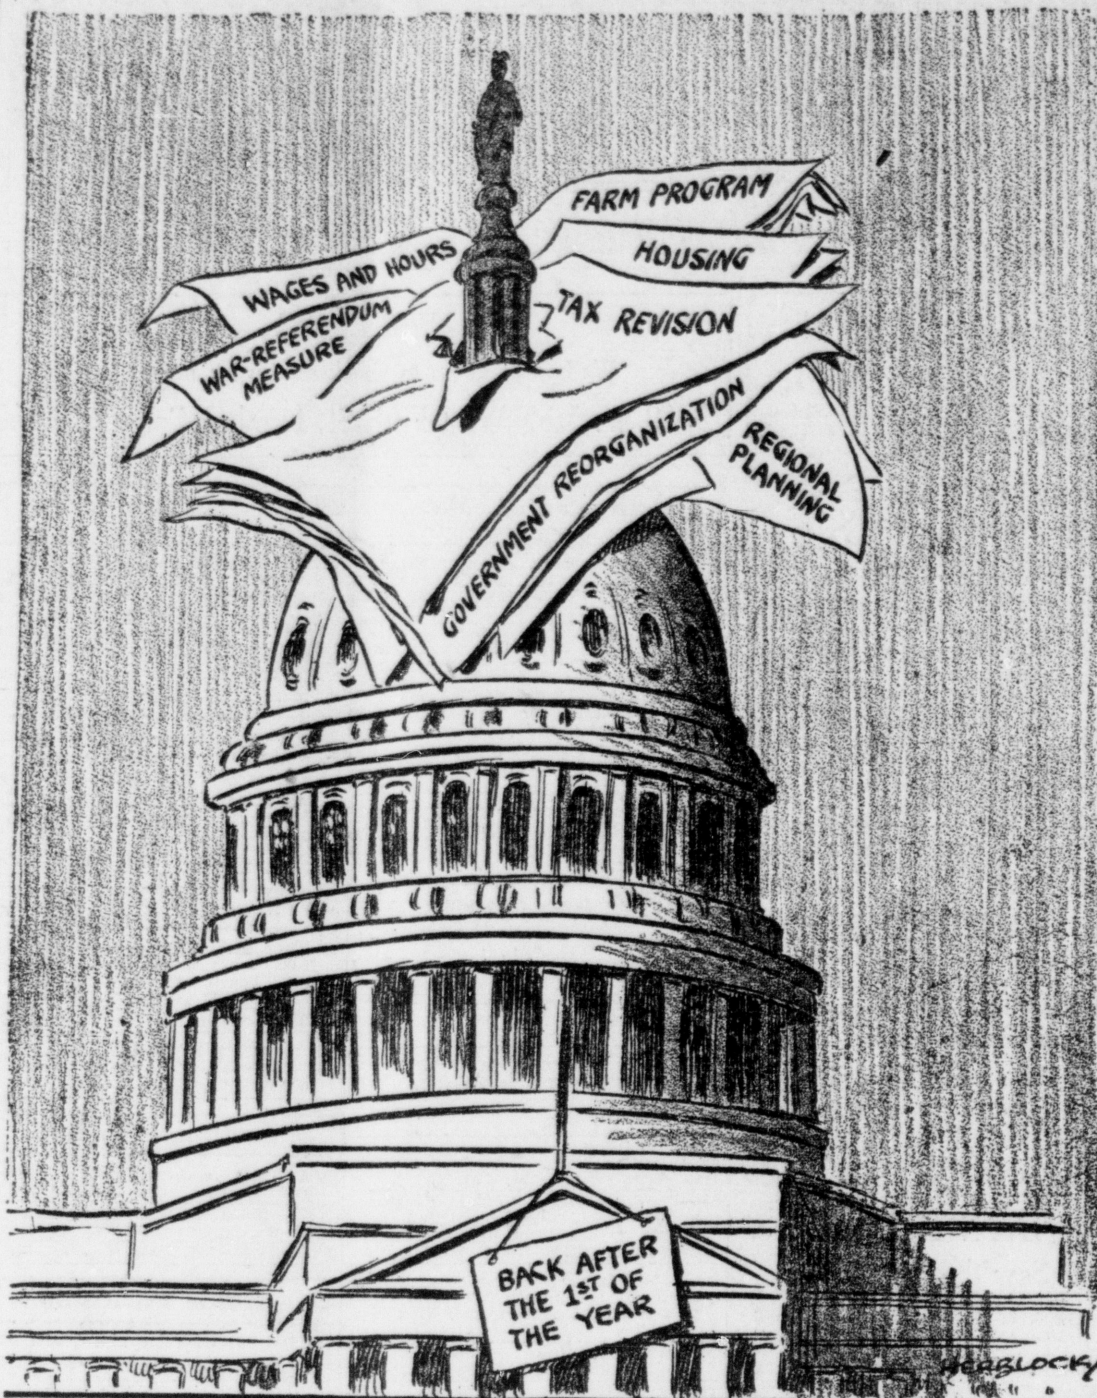

They, however, now contend that all they need is more authority and more control. They are like the man who tried to train his horse to live without eating. He said it was getting along fine but just before he had it finally trained, it died. These reformers who think we can have more by limiting production now have ten or twelve million people out of employment because they have violated the natural evolution in social relations.

RUGG BOOKS IN ACTION

We now have had five years of the Rugg books in action. What the government, under the present administration, has been doing is attempting to manage many of the details of the lives of the citizens. It is the first five-year period in our history that the standard of living has not increased; that the amount of capital used in producing wealth has not increased; that the amount of employment in industry has not increased.

We wonder how long we will have to have this kind of a condition continue before the people, who believe in the government attempting to manage the lives of the individuals, will realize that there is some connection—that there is some cause for this eight years of depression.

Still On The Spindle

General Hugh S. JOHNSON Says

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Aforetime, there used to inhabit the colonial corridors of 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, a ghostly shape called "The White House spokesman." The President could not be quoted directly but, as in grand opera, off-stage, there was always "a voice" that could, if the voice blundered, it didn't make much difference, it was only a figure of imagination anyway.

That Presidential haunt is banished. There is no longer any White House spokesman. But the spirit world remains represented. The new ecotoplastic figure is the White House visitor.

When you come out of an interview with the president, you are set upon by three to a dozen White House correspondents. They want to know what was said. It is written law that you must not tell them. Any narrative of what conversation must come from the President—or not come at all.

The correspondents do not catch everybody the President sees. If, for any reason, it is not desired that it be known that you have had an audience, you go to the White House itself and not to the office wing. You must not reveal to reporters that you have been there—much less, what was said. Many go for that reason.

For these reasons, there is only one voice that can properly relate any kind of version of what was said or not said in these office huddles.

It seems, however, that, like the hereditary ghost of some baronial castle, whenever any momentous event impends, the White House visitor always appears and says precisely what the situation requires.

Once, when the national debt was mounting by the billions, he took the guise of a great financier. That time his message was that the country can easily stand a debt of forty billions. With this ghostly assurance, he vanished into clouds of impenetrable anonymity.

Once, when there was a good bit of rumbling about third-term aspirations, he took the shape of "Guileless" John, the flabbergasted Congressman, wafted in to be jolted objective, fair, good-tempered, witty and appallingly clear. It has some of the light of Coltaire and none of the heat of Dean Swift. Mr. Arnold does not try to persuade or convert his readers; they simply recognize, like old landmarks, the truth of what he is saying and they keep him realizing that they have already sensed most of the ideas which the author has put into clear, simple words.

Thurman Arnold is no "parlor pink." He is a respected member of the faculty of the Yale Law School, who, for a time, was loaned to the Department of Justice at Washington. He is a westerner and has the western knack of seeing things in the whole, without bitterness or partisanship.

If his book had to be compressed into a few sentences, it would be fair to state that he regards the modern American corporation, which things of itself as a "person" like the corner grocer or the bricklayer, as part of the government of the United States, charged with the economic administration of a great and wealthy country. These corporations have, therefore, gathered around themselves many of the myths, traditions and loyalties commonly associated with political sovereignty.

What Bagehot called "the cake of custom" that convenient crust of habits and unquestioning acceptances which gives society its form—is maintained, as of old, by bread (payrolls) and circuses (rituals, formulas, stock-phrases). Now that we are outgrowing the particular skin or crust created by the Republican revolution of the 1860's, all conflicting loyalties, ideas, rituals and slogans which will look well to our grandchildren—if we have any.

"The Folklore of Capitalism" does not try to say which of these attitudes is silly and which will be accepted as "true" by the Americans of the future. Mr. Arnold's chapter on "Political Dynamics" provides the reader with a compass (not a chart) to the labyrinth. His book is important because it makes us realize that we are not discussing problems so much as we are undergoing a natural, if uncomfortable, process. It makes us see some of the factors and inconsistencies which characterize this process and which cause so much mental anguish to both liberals and conservatives.

Above all, it is a pacifying and humorous book. It takes the hot air out of so many political windmills that much of the anger of current controversy is bound to diminish as we swing around to Arnold's point of view. For he has a point of view—just as Karl Marx and Harriet Beecher Stowe had points of view.

His happens to be one of calm good temper and clarity of insight which will make it a good deal harder for the manufacturers to hate the C. I. O. or for the New Dealers to condemn the "economic royalists." The "Folklore of Capitalism" should be "required holiday reading" for every politician and congressman in the United States, and for every labor leader, plutocrat and propagandist on either side of the great battle to see that "the American way" doesn't weigh too much for the people to bear.

INTELLIGENCE HAS FAILED TO MATURE IN PERSONS CLASSED AS FEEBLE-MINDED

This is the second in a series in which Dr. Fishbein discusses various forms of mental defectiveness.

Feeble-minded or mentally defective persons are those whose intelligence never has developed normally. Symptoms vary according to the extent of mental defect.

A small baby that is normal will follow sounds or bright lights. It will smile and grasp objects with its fingers. It learns to walk as it develops, and it learns to control the actions of its bowels and its bladder.

The child who is mentally defective may be extremely late in developing these normal reactions. Sometimes such a child will not make the slightest effort to talk until it is 3 or more years old.

There are other conditions, of course, such as lack of hearing, which may delay the onset of speech. Being alone too much may reflect unfavorably on the gradual development of speech. All of these facts must be studied and understood before a definite diagnosis may be made.

In some cases, the child may seem to be developing normally until it is older. Then when it gets into school it is unable to keep up with the other children, to participate in the usual games and sports, or to keep the admiration of other children. The child soon finds that it is unable to meet new situations.

Sometimes the lack of mental power causes the mentally defective child to get into mischief so that children without principle may use the mentally defective child for mischievous performances.

Anyone with a child whose brain is mentally defective knows that it is impossible to correct this, but there is much that can be done to help a feeble-minded child make a reasonably satisfactory adjustment to life. The aim of the teacher is to help the mentally defective child get the most out of the intelligence that it possesses.

News Behind the News

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—This whole current depression is to be subjected to a big senatorial investigation show immediately after the holidays. What is more important, the investigating is to be done by senators who are out from under the thumb of the White House. It may result in congress taking the ball away from Quartermaster Roosevelt. At the very least, it means the whole balanced budget and measures of the New Deal will be subjected to a cold, senatorial analysis in public for the first time.

The investigators themselves apparently made the decision to conduct the investigation. It came about this way:

At the last session of congress before this depression started the senate adopted a resolution authorizing the vice president to appoint a committee to inquire into relief and unemployment. Mr. Garner apparently had a slight New Deal blind spot in his eye that day as he named Byrnes, Clark, Hatch, Murray, Frazier, Davis and Lodge. Of these, only Murray and Frazier are southerners. Hatch, occasionally leans that way but he, Byrnes and Clark have no R's on their sleeve. The committee seems to be at least four to three independent of orders from above.

So far they have done little investigating. A questionnaire was sent out to gather suggestions for remedies. Committeemen have not taken the trouble to make the result public. All they developed was a few thousand curbstone opinions of which not a single one appeared practicable. The Biggers unemployment census also prevented the committee from going ahead until his figures showing the extent of the problem could be made available.

The searchless seven, therefore, lately decided to expand. One committeeman, Mr. Hatch, has already indicated they will go into the monopoly issue, and announcement will be made soon that they are going still further into labor, prices, unemployment insurance, old-age pensions, government spending, WPA, technological unemployment, poverty and status of migratory workers—in fact all depression factors.

It will constitute the first investigation of the New Deal as such.

Note: The senators naturally are not pressing any intention of putting the New Deal policies on the pan. In general their inquiry is supposed to be mildly sympathetic and non-political. Hearings will open January 4. First witness will be Unemployment Census Taker Biggers; next labor Secretary Perkins and her economist, Isador. Later will be John Lewis and Bill Greider, thereafter, heavy goods industrialists.

Inside tip is the Biggers' figures will be very controversial. They really will not show anything for sure, except such well-known facts as that heaviest unemployment is in building trades; that a lot of housewives and high school children classify themselves as needing work. The survey became obsolete with the new depression before the count was completed.

Those who have seen the preliminary figures to be announced shortly agree only on one conclusion: No really worth-while figures on unemployment will be available until the state unemployment commissions really get to functioning under the Social Security Act.

Treasury Secretary Morgenthau used a photograph of his New York farm home on his Christmas cards this year. He will probably hideout there when the states and congress start looking for the billion dollars which has been paid into the unemployment insurance fund.

The treasury is in a serious dilemma although it has been kept quiet. Unemployment is expected to reach nine million in January. Mr. Roosevelt has asked congress to authorize all states to make payments for unemployment insurance. (On January 1, only twenty-two states and the District of Columbia will be fully prepared.) But the question is where the money is coming from.

The treasury devised a neat little scheme for using unemployment insurance taxes to pay current running expenses. They take the money thus collected from the workers out of the unemployment insurance fund and spend it, leaving the fund with two and one-half per cent of treasury IOU's maturing next year. Nearly a half billion dollars will thus have been taken out of the fund when the January demand gets heavy.

It sounds like official absconding, but it is perfectly legal absconding under the Social Security Act. The treasury just did not expect another depression so soon and thought it could get away with this short-cut method of avoiding financing and increasing the debt. Congressional investigators will go into this too.

Public Utilities Excess do not expect anything to come out of their current negotiations with the White House. They are convinced that they are being played on a long string for temporary political effect.

A resolution calling for a senatorial investigation of Senator Berry's marble deal with the TVA has been prepared for introduction by a southeastern Democratic senator, but it may not be presented when congress reconvenes. For one thing, the senate dislikes to investigate one of its own members. For another, the word is around that one will ever be able to prove anything except that Senator Berry wanted more for his flooded marble quarries than the TVA was willing to pay.

HERE AND THERE

One of the principal factors in recent victories of foreign cars on American speedways is the foreign drivers' use of formula fuels instead of gasoline.
